Edgar urges tougher senior, trucker laws

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

Ill. Sec. of State Jim Edgar was introduced to the Antioch Rotary Club and guests by Randy Miles, Rotary president, as one of the key men in the lowering of drunken driving fatalities in the state.

After underscoring that introduction with statistics upholding the claim, Edgar, not one to stand on past laurels, told the Antioch audience that there was more work to be done with Illinois' driving laws.

He talked about two bills now up in front of the state's legislators, one changing a law calling for closer and more often mandatory testing of drivers from the age of 69 to 74 to testing drivers 80 years old and older.

"That's an old law (69-74), today's drivers of that age do not need to take a road test every four years, but the accident rate tells us that drivers 80 years old and older do."

Edgar said that drivers 87 years old and older should be tested every two years, quoting further figures that showed drivers in that age bracket were 20 times more likely to be involved in a fatal accident.

He then came up with the surprising news that there were six licensed drivers that were 100 years old or older in Illinois.

The other project Edgar is spearheading is a bill calling for tougher standards for truck drivers, adding "trucks and buses, etc., comprise 1 percent of the vehicles on the road, but such vehicles have been involved in 9 percent of the fatal accidents.

The bill also calls for drivers of trucks and other large vehicles that carry passengers, to have a .40 drunken alcohol level, lower than the standard .10.

Other projects on Edgar's agenda include the future possibility of seat belts being mandated in school buses.

Edgar also talked about the new law that goes into effect at the start of 1990, calling for all Illinois motorists to maintain liability insurance. This will be constantly spot checked, much as the IRS does tax statements.

Edgar said that Antioch is in the middle of the area that has the highest number of uninsured motorists in the state, at least two million. He added that it was his goal to cut that figure in half.

In happily quoting the state's DUI figures, Edgar said that last year, teen drunken driving arrests were down by 18 percent and all DUI arrests, statewide, had declined by 20 percent.

He finished by saying that, "Anyone can pass a law, one-half of the equation is to make it work."

Tell Traco 'goodbye'

The Antioch Village Board and the audience at the last regular board meeting cheered when they were told by Village Atty. Ken Clark that Lake County Judge Raymond McKoski had, in effect, ordered Traco, Inc. to leave the Antioch area.

The order injoining Traco from continuing business at its two sites, one on Rte. 83, just north of the village, and the other on Rte. 173 in the township, set Sept. 18 as a deadline.

The village and residents had been upset at Traco's operating so close to the village, not only because of possible impending danger from the chemicals the company manufactures, but also because of the unsightliness of its business locations.

There was a loss of life when Traco's North Chicago plant was destroyed by a fire a year ago.

In other business, the board:

— gave unanimous final approval to Phase 3 of the Pine Hill Lakes development. The board received a letter, confirmed by Clark, that the developers had agreed to, and were following, all of the village's conditions which included widening the pathways.

— heard that a walk-through, open to the public, is planned for the Carl Zimmerman property on Rte. 59, just south of St. Stephen's Church, at 9 a.m., on Saturday.

Nautical fans

Backwater Gamblers are introduced to hundreds of nautical fans at 24th Annual Lambs Farm Water Ski Show Tournament in Libertyville. Proceeds from show, sanctioned by the American Water Ski Assn., went to Lambs Farm. # Pilotte forecasts smooth transition

Glogovsky will take the reins June 30

By STEVE PETERSON

Lakeland Newspapers

It may not occur to Merv Pilotte on July 1, or the first week.

Maybe he'll be relaxing, watching a ballgame or working around the yard at his Waukegan home.

But by August, don't be surprised if Pilotte doesn't drop by for a visit or two at the Lake County Area Vocational Center in Grayslake. After all, the familiar trek down Washington St. to a left turn on Lancer Ln. is a natural one for Pilotte. He has been making that trip for more than 10 years now.

"The thing I will miss most is the people," Pilotte said.

Pilotte is calling it a career after spending the last dozen years as director of the LCAVC, located near the College of Lake County. Pilotte, who has remained busy in his final months on the job, will be turning the duties of running the center over to Richard Glogovsky on June 30. Mike Anderson, presenting vocational coordinator, will become deputy director while Urban Oen will be an administrative assistant.

Pilotte has been involved with the LCAVC ever since its first offices were opened at the Lake County Regional Supt. of Schools office. After four years of planning, the center, located now within the village of Grayslake, became

Discussing brochure

Lake County Area Vocational Center officials discuss a brochure. Dir. Merv Pilotte will be retiring from position as director later this month. reality.

Pilotte, a former vocational instructor in the Waukegan school district, recalls how vocational education has changed in the last two decades.

"I've been in vocational education since 1960 and there seems to be a pendulum effect. In the 1950s the United States was trying to catch up with the Russians who had launched Sputnik and there was big emphasis on math-science and engineering. Then there was a swing to vocational education in the mid 1960s and then a back to basics approach when 'A Nation At Risk' came out. I think we have come full cycle," the outgoing Pilotte said.

Buses with names of school districts from Richmond-Burton to Prairie View pull into the circular drive each school day to transport students. Some 17 schools are involved, Lake County schools and Richmond-Burton and Johnsbury in McHenry County. Alden-Hebron is an at large member. All told, some 1,100 students are served by the LCAVC in everything from computer assisted drafting to nursing careers.

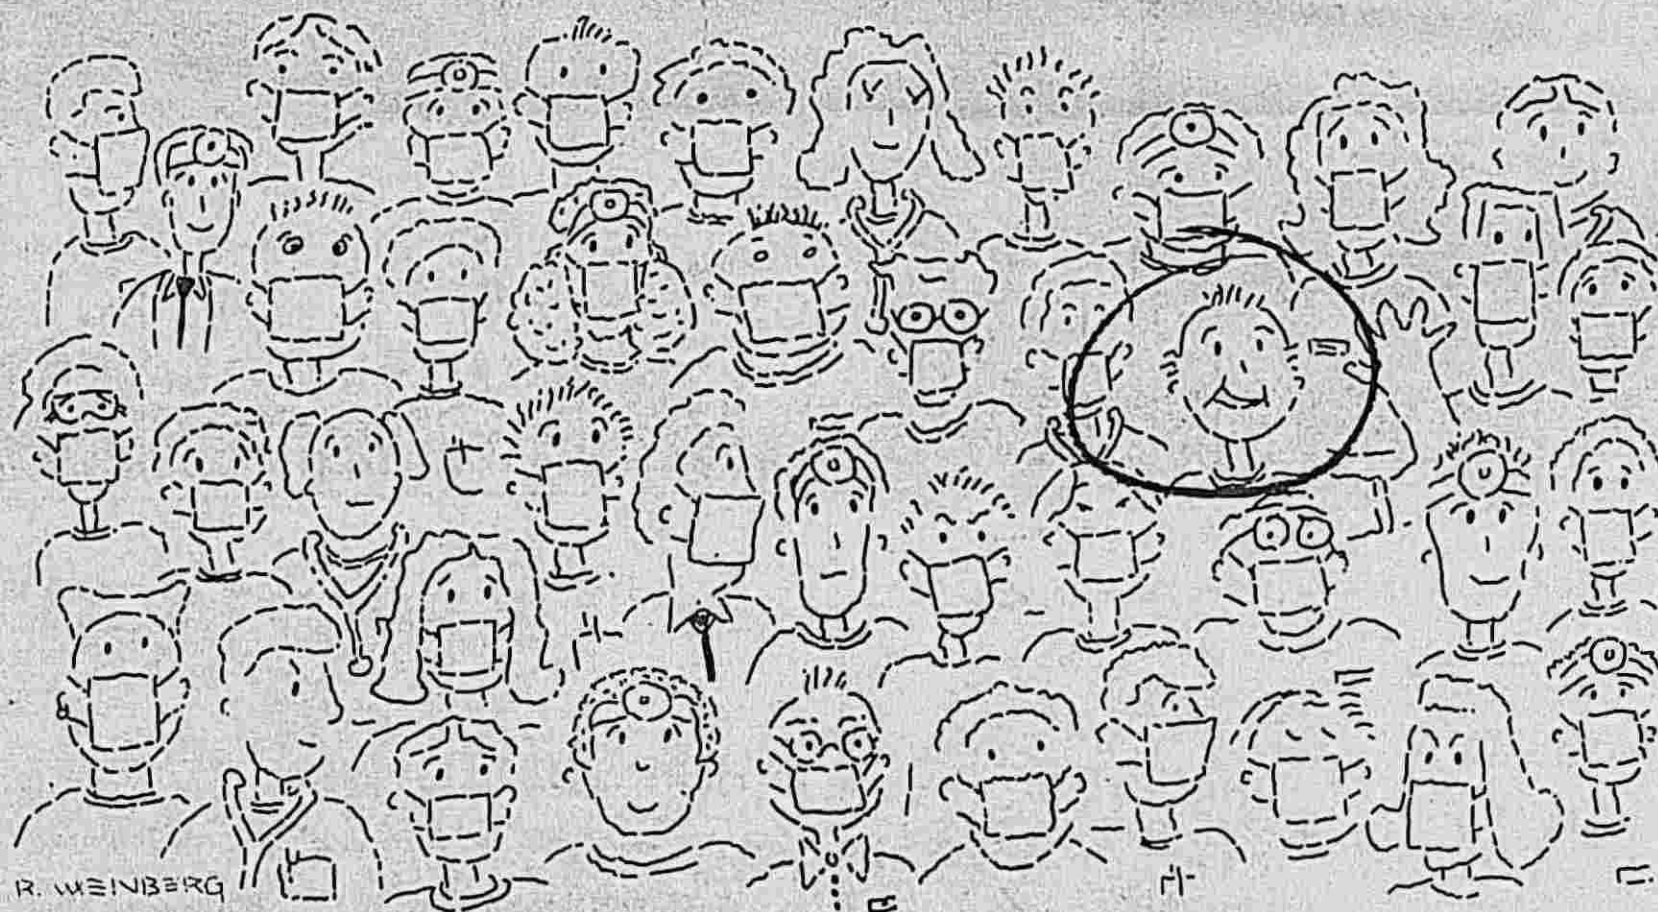

"Our peak enrollment was at 1,500 in 1982. Our enrollment trends follow that of high school's," Pilotte said.

Warren and Waukegan schools currently represent the largest contingents of students.

Pilotte said proudly that the students' attitudes about education often change when they take LCAVC courses.

"We've had many students who have gone onto college," he said.

One does not have to actually visit the classrooms of LCAVC to see students work. A drive through Mariner's Cove subdivision across Washington St. and a home built by building trades classes; at many civic events throughout the county, the Lake County Fire Chief's fire prevention home is present. The LCAVC can be as close as a T.V. set. Some cable broadcasts have originated from the LCAVC T.V. studio.

Exchange Club working on ID project

The Exchange Club of Antioch is a non-profit organization in Antioch whose purpose is to offer members the opportunity to serve their community and exchange ideas and make friendships with fellow businessmen and women.

One of the club's projects is called Operation Identification. This project offers anyone in the community the opportunity to rent, at no cost, an engraver to personalize items in their home with an ID number to help prevent burglaries—or at least make recovery of these items easier. The ID number used may be a driver's license number, social security number, or other number one feels is appropriate.

The engravers are available at the Antioch Quick Print, for free weekly rentals to anyone in the community.

For more information on this project, contact the club's president, Bob Gagnon at (312)395-3024, or Ed Antkowiak at (312)356-7653.

Corrigan retires after 32 years at ACHS

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

James Corrigan, who has spent the last 32 years of his career in education at Antioch Community High School, will not return to ACHS in the fall. He has tendered his resignation to the school board and will be retiring.

Corrigan was the chairman of the high school's English department. His teaching career in the area had started in the Lake

Villa School system. "I'll miss my students," said the long-time teacher.

At its last regular meeting, the school board:

— approved the hiring of Rosemary Collard as a full-time Spanish teacher. She has been teaching at ACHS on a part-time basis.

— hired two more new teachers for the 1989-90 school year, Susanne G.

Sugrue, who will teach German classes, and Stephen P. Sheedlo, who will teach mathematics.

— after approving the employment of additional teachers for the summer school program, heard that, starting on June 16, over 400 semester credit hour would be taken by students with 144 students enrolled in driver education classes and 38 students attending the Title I Reading Program.

— also approved the three foreign exchange students: sponsored by the Antioch Chapt. of the Rotary International Youth Exchange Program will be Teregene Flores of Denmark; sponsored by the National 4-H Council will be Alvaro Cerdas Quesadas, Costa Rica, and sponsored by the International Student Exchange Program will be Rikke Jagd, Denmark.

— set radon testing at a number of locations in the school's lower levels.

Next year, the high school will have $9,663 more in funding to help provide gifted programs in English, math, science, social studies, visual arts, vocal music and drama.

The monies will be coming from a grant from the Gifted Education Reimbursement Program the school will be receiving for 1989-90.

Burglar has a 'ball'

Three Kenosha County men have been arrested in connection with an early morning burglary at Hardee's restaurant in Antioch last week.

David Damron, 18, Trevor, Jason Carr, 19, Trevor, and Keith M. Shaffer, 19, Twin Lakes, have been charged with taking $250 from Hardee's safe.

Antioch's new investigative officer, Mike Culat, arrested the three after witnesses described Damron, saying he was seen between 1:30 and 2 a.m. in the morning, hanging around Hardees.

Culat had also taken a footprint left on a can, used to climb into the false ceiling of the restaurant.

The Antioch police officer sighted the three Wisconsinites in the parking lot of Walgreen's, which is next to Hardees, the day after the burglary.

When they were questioned at the Antioch police station, the footprint proved to have been made by shoes worn by Damron.

All three admitted that Damron had hid under the plastic balls in the children's ball pit, while the restaurant was open.

After it closed, he went through the false ceiling into the office and took the money from the safe which was left unlocked.

The other two waited for Damron in the parking lot. They then took the money and parted.

Damron is in violation of parole and is wanted on a Wisconsin warrant. He is in Lake County Jail with bail set at $25,000. The other two were released on their own recognizance, with trial dates to be set.

Find Abate 'not guilty'

Tony Abate of Antioch was found not guilty by a 12-man jury on charges of intimidating Don Cardin, an Antioch car dealer.

The trial was held in the court of Lake County Judge Harold Hartell.

According to Abate's attorney, Michael LaPat, Abate was charged with threatening Cardin with bodily harm after he had invested $3,000 in a pyramid scam, allegedly masterminded by Cardin and Joe Rader.

Testimony at the trial revealed an airplane pyramid scam that was in operation in Lake County the last part of 1987 until May 1988.

According to other testimony heard during the trial, "Lake County residents were meeting at homes in Barrington and at parties hosted by Cardin in Antioch."

People were allegedly paying $1,500 to the "pilot" for a seat on the plane. Each plane had eight seats.

LaPat said that testimony given at the trial accused Cardin of having eight planes, with eight seats each.

The jury deliberated for a 30 minutes before returning with the "not guilty" verdict.

RV, Boat, Auto Show set for June 23-24-25

The staff of the Antioch New-Reporter hopes that everyone paid attention to the big signs all over town telling them that the Antioch Chamber of Commerce's RV, Boat and Auto Show will be in the parking lot of the Antioch High School this weekend.

Last week, we mistakenly reported that the show was to start on June 16. The News-Reporter's staff is extremely sorry.

The show will start at 4 p.m., on Friday and be on until 9 p.m.

The show will continue on Saturday, from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m., and also on Sunday, from 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Area dealers will have displays of travel and recreational vehicles.

There will be live entertainment, including deejay music.

Prizes, donated by the exhibitors, will be given away every hour.

Admission and parking is free.

Softball season over

The Antioch High School softball team, in conference with Coach Ken Anderson, finished the 1989 season in fourth place in the North Suburban Conference. — Photo by Steve Young.

ACHS netters 8-10

The Antioch High School boys varsity tennis team finished the season with a record of 8 wins and 10 losses. This was an improvement over the varsity season records from the last few years. In conference the team finished with a record of 3 wins and 5 losses, which was good for a sixth place finish.

The season started well with a second place finish in the Wheeling Invitational Tournament. When they started conference play, however, they had the toughest four schools in the conference. Each of those schools have state rated players. After losing five straight meets, the boys regrouped and managed to put together a series of wins. The season ended on a series of wins. The season ended on a real upswing with ACHS winning its last four meets.

Team members and award winners for this year were: Eric Cittadino, Eric Dahl, Chris Griffin, Scott Hammack, Brian Hovey, Drew Johnson, Jason Masek, Warren Regnier, Kurt Rhode, Greg Visce, Ryan Ward and Doug Windahl.

The most valuable player was Cittadino, most improved, Hammack and Masek, team captains Cittadino, Hovey, Johnson, Ward and managers were Jodi Kempa and Nikki Corris.

Soccer team gets better

The goals of this years ACHS girls varsity soccer team were to move up one position in conference and second to increase their shot on goal. Both of these goals were accomplished.

The girls finished forth in conference with the first 50/50 season, five wins, five losses, two ties with an overall record of seven wins, eight losses, and three ties.

Julie Brandt was most valuable player, Christy Delany was most improved, Colleen Osmond was team captain, Hope Reidel and Carrie Delany were nominated to the All Sectional team.

All-conference selections were Brandt, Reidel and Delany.

Young tracksters do OK

The ACHS girls track team did an outstanding job this season. With the team being as young as it is next season the girls are going to be very tough.

This year's accomplishments were: dual meet record of five wins and four losses; Waukegan West Invitational where they placed sixth out of 15 teams; Woodstock Invitational, placed third out of 10 teams; Lake Forest Invitational, placed fifth out of 16 teams; and the Frosh/Soph meet, placed second out of six teams.

The conference meet was held at Niles North High School where ACHS finished in fourth place which gave them an overall fourth finish in the conference.

The district meet was held at Cary-Grove High School where ACHS placed third out of 17 teams.

Antioch qualified girls in five events to be run at the state meet in Charleston. State qualifiers were: Liz Waters in the 3,200 meter run, Kelly Doyle in the 100 intermediate hurdles, Michelle Hansen in both the 800 meter run and the 1600 meter run. The 800 meter medley also qualified. The relay members are Deanna Olenick, Teri Farnsworth, Kelly Doyle and Michelle Hansen.

New school records were set in the 300 low hurdles by Cathy Bock, in the 800 meters run and the 1,600 meter run, both by Hansen, and Doyle established the record in the 100 intermediate hurdles.

The 1989 ACHS boys' track team finished the season in fifth place in the conference. The team won six conference dual meets and lost three. In the conference meet, the team finished fifth. Overall the dual meet record was 8-3, the best record since joining the North Suburban Conference.

Other highlights were a second place finish in the Stevenson relays, fourth at the county meet and fifth at the sectional meet. Qualifying for the state meet were Chris Horton in the pole vault, Mike Golebiowski in the shot put and Jeremy Richer in the discus.

The frosh-soph team was also fifth in the conference and was 6-2 in dual or triangular meets. The freshmen won the Waukegan East Invitational.

Team honors as voted by the athletes are: most valuable, Jim Keim; team captain, Scott Gooch; and most improved, Tom Groth.

Walsh's resignation draws 5 board hopefuls

Happy 50th

I received a phone call from the daughter of Grace and Bob Ullrich of Antioch informing me the happy couple will be celebrating their 50th Wedding Anniversary on June 24. I met Mr. Ullrich by chance about one and one-half year ago. Remember me, Bob, I am the one who fed you peanut butter and jelly when you came to the polls to vote? Hope you and the Mrs. have a very happy 50th and more anniversaries yet to come. Congratulations to you both.

Golf Pro

Our own up-coming "golf pro" is in the news once again. On very rainy Monday, July 12, Jenny Harris took first place in the girl's division of the Bristol Oaks Country Club junior golf tournament. There were five girls competing and due to the rain they played nine holes instead of the usual 18 played during tournaments. Congratulations once again, Jenny, for your outstanding performance in this tournament. Keep us posted of your accomplishments.

Antioch's Class of '64

know the whereabouts of anyone on this list, please call Clarice at (312)223-3306 A.S.A.P. Betty Bahling, Don Binkowski, Nancy Binkowski, Noel Birr, Ray Caldwell, Joyce Curtis, Diane Phisterer,

There is also a 50's party scheduled for the night before at the Dog N' Suds on Rollins and Washington St. in Ingleside.

Grass Lake resignation

According to Supt. Anthony Przeklasa, five people in the Grass Lake Community have applied for the vacant seat on the Grass Lake School Board. This vacancy was created by the resignation of Mary Beth Walsh. Mary Beth was a member of the board since 1973 and served as secretary of the board for nine years. The school and members of the community would like to thank Mary for her years of dedicated service to the board. Mary Beth and her husband, Frank, were long time residents of the Grass Lake area and their four softball team ended their season in a tie for fourth place in the conference. The team had a very strong finish to their season as they won the last six ballgames. The following girls were presented with special awards: Most valuable player - Kelly Maple, All Conference/All Academic - Dale Ramage, Team Captain/All Conference - Ali Rogala, Most Improved/All Academic - Tonya Albert, All Academic - Jenny Harris. Congratulations to you all. Enjoy your summer.

Graduation party

If you are in the process of planning a graduation party for that special graduate in your life, read on to discover a sentimental tip. I attended a grade school graduation get together for Jenny Brausam at the home of her parents, Ray and Marie Brausam of Antioch. Marie put together a special album for Jenny and it was kept on display for all the family members and friends to enjoy. It was truly a trip down memory lane - a sort of "This is Your Life," Jenny Brausam. It consisted of portraits, snapshots, and special awards. Marie included baby pictures, school pictures, sports activities, special events, holidays, parties, memorabilia, ending with a copy of the speech Jenny delivered as class salutatorian. It also served as a great party mixer as people meeting for the first time found themselves leafing through the pages together. Once again, Marie, thanks for the memories.

Along The Way With Annie Mae

Talk about a mystery! Linda and James Curtis tell me that their son Tim, who graduated from Antioch High School back in 1983, had cast a 300-pound bronze ring sculpture at the Art Inst. in Chicago. For want of a place to keep the sculpture, Tim stored it in a vacant lot next to his apartment building and it was stolen despite its weight and girth.

Those of you who remember Martha Schmidt when she was a member of the Antioch United Methodist Church, might be interested to know that she is now Rev. Martha Schmidt of Capron, Ill.

Isn't it refreshing to know that everybody isn't into those tasteless health foods and running all over creation.

Old Annie Mae hears that there is a group in Antioch, lead by Dennis Johnson, that still enjoys a good time, eating real food.

What's a few more inches around the waistline more or less, hmmm Sandy?

Don't forget the Chamber's RV, Boat and Auto Show this weekend over at the high school!

Maybe old Annie Mae will get herself one of those psychedelic vans to travel around in!

Although thousands of miles away, the crisis in China has hit home to a number of people in Lake County.

News of the Chinese government breaking up student freedom demonstrations in Beijing grabbed the attention and sympathy of Chinese in the U.S.

Joanne Moy, owner of Yen Yen Restaurant in Arlington Heights, said her heart goes out to the students.

"I think it's great that the Chinese people speak up," she said. "I think the students are brave," she later added.

"My heart is sad," she also said. "I wish they'd stop killing all those students."

"It's a horrible, horrible thing what they're doing to the people," she added. She commented that the students are China's future, and she wants to say, "Stop the killing! Stop the killing!"

Moy said she was 9 years old when she escaped with her father from communist China and has lived in the U.S. for 26 years ago. She said she's grateful she's living in America, that she got "very lucky."

Seeing how communism works, she said it's corrupt. "It's no good...no freedom at all...You don't have the right to speak up."

Since 1984, Moy has gone back to her home village near Canton every year, which she says is very backwards, commenting that the Chinese government doesn't care about the farming community. "Everything is so run down."

When visiting, she said she helps out in the hospital and schools in the village because "they don't have anything."

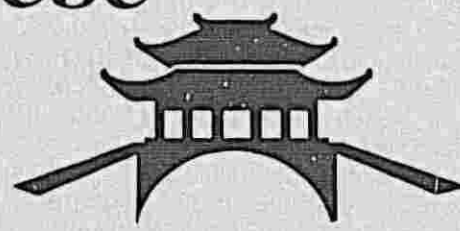

Moy visited again last March and noticed things were changing. "It's been getting better," she said, adding that she's afraid the oppression is happening again because of the demonstrations.

So far, the crisis has had little effect on the village. Moy's nephew called and said everything there is quiet.

Moy said she's planning another trip

FEAR & TURMOIL

Lake County Chinese speak of homeland crisis

to her home village next year, but isn't sure if she'll go. She noted her husband might not want her to go.

"They need our help," she said.

One Lake Villa man, who would not disclose his name but said he came to America more than 30 years ago from China, no longer has ties with the country. However, he commented, "(When) anybody kills somebody it upsets everybody."

Some spoke about their concerns at an Open Forum at College of Lake County (CLC).

Members in the audience gasped when at one point during discussion, it came out that when the Chinese government announced sentencing eight people to death for their part in the demonstrations, those people were probably shot only a half hour later. That means that by the demonstrations, and was free to "roam the streets of Beijing."

Tesch was "well-protected. No harm was done to us." While she was there, she was able to talk to some students, who told her they wanted reform, but not bloodshed or harm to the nation's economy.

"It was nice to know students were demonstrating and keeping people out of the crowd in the park," Tesch said, witnessing that the students kept everyone else out of the park during the demonstrations.

Tesch said that when the Chinese army and the workers added to the mass of the demonstrations in Shanghai, authorities she talked to feared an epidemic would occur and there wouldn't be enough hospitals to accommodate an epidemic, so special forces of the Army were ordered to communication of truth of the crisis will come to the Chinese is through the students themselves, many of whom come to Beijing from different provinces of China. When they go home for vacations, they will be able to spread first-hand accounts of what really happened.

Janet Or, a CLC accounting student, attended the forum. Or, who currently lives in Libertyville, lived in China until the age of 11.

Or said she is concerned because she has family and friends back in China, but her hometown in the southern region, quite a distance away from Beijing, is "pretty quiet."

She said she receives letters from friends expressing their anger toward the Chinese government for not telling the truth about the situation.

"I think everybody knows what's going on," she said, adding that the government can't hide it. "I think the government will not last long," she said.

Or said her husband thinks they'll go back to China when the situation clears. "We think because we're Chinese, we should do something for Chinese."

Wong said he thought the demonstration was going well for the students until they made a mistake by personally attacking the leaders. A former Chinese citizen, he said he's sympathetic toward the students, but feels the situation "got out of hand."

He noted that face-saving is important to the Chinese, and he thinks the leaders had intended to open up but felt cornered when the students "pointed fingers" at them.

The educator and Tesch weren't the only one's in the county whose travel plans were disrupted by the crisis.

In Gurnee, Warren Twp. High School senior Rachel Schurter was hoping to leave for China later this month, but that trip was cancelled because of the crisis.

"She was getting really good with chopsticks," Rachel's father, Dist. 56 Supt. Wayne Schurter, said.

Schurter said the People to People group will now go to Hong Kong, Korea and other places in the Far East.

"Even if the situation calms down today, it would be three years before they try to go to China again," Schurter said.

He said funds raised by his daughter will be used for the revamped trip.

People to People, which encourages international understanding through personal contact, tried to arrange a Soviet Union visit but that fell through because of scheduling.

Most of the People to People student ambassadors will stay with the revamped trip.

Tesch quoted a phrase in a Chinese newspaper: "Right now our faces are obedient, but our hearts aren't. Democracy is only a matter of time."

time the headlines reached the U.S., Those eight people were already killed.

Among those on the panel were a Chinese educator visiting the area, Remedios Tesch, a CLC instructor who just returned from a Northern Illinois Univ. tour of China, and Richard Wong, a CLC instructor who left China as a refugee 30 years ago and is involved in the Chinese Assn. of Lake County.

The visiting educator was planning to go home next week, but postponed the trip because of the crisis.

She said she lost contact with her husband and son back home in China (seven or eight hours from Beijing) for a long time, but last week she received a letter from them describing the June 6 incident. The letter showed that everyone there is for the students and against the government, she said.

She noted an irony that the "People's Army" in China is "firing at the people," even though the students were unarmed and didn't hurt anybody.

She fears for the reputation of China's potential for progress, which it built up over 10 years, she added.

She also said the Chinese government just wants to show power, and the people feel betrayed by the government.

Thompson may become Grayslake interim chief

William Thompson may be named interim superintendent at Grayslake Community High School.

The board of education was expected to consider that possibility at a June 22 meeting. Thompson presently serves as interim superintendent at North Chicago Community High School.

"He knows the county and Grayslake like the back of his hand," Grayslake Supt. Dr. Griff Powell said.

The board meeting was Powell's last as superintendent. On July 1 he will begin his duties as superintendent at Highland Park Dist. 211.

"You couldn't find a better person anywhere," Powell said of the veteran Lake County educator.

Thompson, who retired from the Lake County Regional Supt. of Schools position two years ago, said he has discussed the possibility of working both districts with NCCHS Board president William Fortune.

Thompson said Wednesday nothing definite had been decided.

Powell said the interim position is expected to last until August.

Family affair

New hot spot emerges

Developers have identified the extreme northeast corner of Illinois as Lake County's next "hot" spot, and they've dubbed the locale the Coho Coast. Friday, June 23, is devoted to a tour to show off the amenities and potential of North Point Marina and adjacent areas.

At stake is how best to develop 21,000 acres, or approximately 33 square miles of vacant land in the 1990s. The Lake County Economic Development Commission participated in presentations to developers, realtors, planners, journalists, marketers, educators and elected officials for the sector including Waukegan, North Chicago and Gurnee north to the stateline. In other words, the red carpet was laid out.

Promoters see the Coho Coast as one of the last major areas of Lake County ripe for development. How soon such major development areas as Libertyville, Vernon Hills, the Lake-Cook corridor, Lake Zurich and corporate office building in and around Deerfield and Lincolnshire—all former "hot" spots—become old hat. Make way for a new challenger.

Interestingly, the Coho Coast—by including Waukegan—contains some of the county's oldest landmarks, at the same time showcasing raw land with unquestioned potential. With a vast amount of open space, it's not surprising that new vistas are opening in northeast Lake County.

Welcome, Libertyville

Lakeland Newspapers is taking a significant step forward with establishment of the Libertyville News, which this week joined the family of community weekly newspapers published in Lake County under local ownership.

The Libertyville News will be like other Lakeland weeklies in adherence to a policy of strong local news coverage and a focus on Lake County issues. The Libertyville News will be different to the extent that it reflects the qualities and features that set Libertyville apart from neighboring communities.

From its earliest days down to the present, Libertyville has been a center of commerce. It has always been a retailing hub and a key community for banking and professional services. Because of these qualities and its location, Libertyville also has been a desirable place to live and raise a family. In short, Libertyville is a vibrant, progressive community, a good place to publish a newspaper.

Our aim, as it is in other communities served by Lakeland Newspapers, is to provide a viable advertising service to local businesses and deliver to our readers a distinctive editorial product with meaningful and interesting news and information. Welcome, Libertyville!

Rekindling competition

Back in the Dark Ages before computerization, just about every high school in this locality had some kind of on-going relationship with the business community to provide meaningful education experiences for young persons in the community. This was over and above the usual after school and summer vacation jobs.

Known variously as work-study or distributive education, business cooperated with educators to formulate well structured, monitored programs run in a "real world" environment that provided unquestioned educational benefits. The programs we're talking about were, by design, in the vocational area—the thinking being that the local high school would be responsible for academics.

In our area, the half-day school/half day work programs became less viable upon the growth and development of the Lake County Area Vocational Educational Center on Washington St., which centralized and expanded vocational training under instructors who were both certified and qualified in their field of expertise.

By coincidence, the era when work-study programs flourished also was the heyday of the adult evening school. Creation of the College of Lake County all but eliminated continuing adult education provided by the high school. In a few short years, the involvement of the business community in education became relegated to paying taxes.

Now, circumstances are forcing the business community to become involved with public education again. This is all for the good, in our opinion. Merely griping about high costs of education and a deteriorating product on the part of business is past. Business must get involved in the education process for survival reasons, both self preservation and perpetuation of public education. Crain's Chicago Business recently showcased the need for business leaders to help overhaul Chicago's deplorable public school system. The Kiplinger Washington Letter called shaping up our schools America's toughest task in the '90s. As business gets more involved in re-education of workers who didn't learn in the classrooms, the side products will be a push from business for a longer school day and year, testing of teachers, more focus on math and the sciences and, yes, even higher teacher pay.

Perhaps one of the most significant benefits business can bring to the educational process is the rekindling of competitive spirit in academics. Our town should want to excel in computer science, English and math, just like we want to beat the socks off our neighbors in basketball and football. Wouldn't that be something!

Our debt to Mike Graham

by GRACE MARY STERN
State Representative

There is a mean spirited flavor to recent stories in the local (and the metropolitan) press about the "Demise of Open Space" and the defeat in the April Township election of the progenitor of the Open Space movement, Mike Graham. I am reminded anew that politics and government are hazardous professions for the unwary, and that once blood is drawn, the wolves are upon the straggler.

Graham, until very recently the Supervisor in Libertyville Township, is someone who has made a difference in his lifetime. Not many of us can make that statement. He has also however, made some powerful enemies.

Graham came to the Lake County Board (then called the Board of Supervisors) in 1969 with one cause: the environment. Over the years that we served the county government together (he as a Republican Board member, I as the Democratic County Clerk) I came to know Graham well. We are friends from across the partisan aisles and so what I say may be discounted on the basis of that friendship. I hope, though, that it will add some balance to the kind of ugliness that has become part and parcel of the current commentary.

From 1969 to the present day, Graham has had one mission and one crusade and that was to save the greenness of the (Continued on Page 11)

A NEW ADDITION

Viewpoint

'89 Cubs defy June Swoon, stay hungry

by BILL SCHROEDER

Too many well remembered July 4 fade outs of the past are impinging on the exuberance of die-hard Cub fans over their team being in first place. Sure, the sports bars north of Madison St. are full of silly-dillys pointing an index finger skyward to signify No. 1, but old-time Cub supporters (I date my suffering from 1938) are all too familiar with what has become known as the June Swoon. So, put a hold on the celebration.

Still, as the boys on LaSalle St. put it, a little "cautious optimism" is permissible, if not in order. After all, the North Siders are better than last year, mostly because of Mitch Williams, a bonafide major league relief pitcher who takes the mound snorting, sniffing, twitching his head and pawing the rubber like a young bull. It's no wonder that opposing batters approach the plate a bit gingerly getting ready to face a southpaw like Williams.

Baseball experts (aren't we all?) are insisting that the Cubs will be getting better as the season progresses. To be sure, work being done by the No-Name outfield built around incomparable Andre Dawson is a pleasant surprise. The newcomers have propelled Chicago into first, while still learning their jobs. The basically young pitching staff, after facing the likes of St. Louis, New York and Montreal, has proved it is up to a challenge, especially when the Red Baron can come in as a stopper.

Damon Berryhill is the best Cub catcher since Gabby Hartnett. Few baseball teams can sustain a pennant drive without an outstanding catcher. Ryno is the best second baseman in baseball. Period. What else is good about the Cubs this year? Manager Don Zimmer is in the groove. He's got his team running, and he always has the hook ready for an off-target pitcher. Never underestimate desire and determination in any enterprise. All that is needed is a third baseman. Sorry, folks, Vance Law can't cut it.

Chicago Cub followers—and the moguls in Tribune Tower—will be getting their monies worth this year. Don't order World Series tickets yet, but keep your checkbook handy.

CHANGING PACE—Times are changing. Is it glasnost? Ever since the place opened, the theme of Great America's Grand Music Hall has been a star spangled musical. Wave the flag. When Johnny Comes Marching Home!

This summer the Grand Music Hall card is featuring a Russian folk singing and dancing group through Aug. 20. Great America theatrical agents are out to create the feeling of being in an authentic Russian theater. Move over Uncle Sam.

OLDER, BETTER—The more things stay the same, the better people like it. That's the philosophy for planning the Lake County Fair, according to Walter Krumrey, fair association treasurer. "People seem to like the same thing—tractor pull, rodeo, exhibits, horse show, demo derby."

The fair office will be expanded to six persons July then things really start bustling for the annual summer event. Krumrey, a director since 1950, recalled how the fair spent a lot of money a few years ago to hire professional entertainment. Attendance for the name acts was pretty sparse because fair visitors were doing what they enjoy, seeing time-honored exhibits. For the man with the pursestrings, the 1989 fair will be virtually a carbon copy of last year.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY—Father's Day was brightened by the presence of two freshly minted gobs, David Kalina, our nephew's brother, and his pal, Jose Pena of San Diego, who were celebrating graduation from boot training at Great Lakes Naval Training Center. Dave and Jose took their first boat ride since entering the Navy (on Long Lake), and also tried out the rowboat. The young sailors had to endure intense interrogation from old salts and ex-GIs about life in the modern military and "how it used to be." The fine gentlemen enjoyed supper and got back to base well before their 10 p.m. curfew.

Need reason for taking Politically Speaking

by JOHN S. MATIJEVICH
State Representative

There are times when legislators get mad at something or someone and they vent their spleen through legislation.

I have risen on the floor more than once to say that vindictiveness or vendetta have no place in the statutes. There are times when you can almost feel the blood spilling between the lines of legislative retribution.

It doesn't make sense to legislative personalities either. The Lake County Forest Preserve Dist., just the mention of it, raises the feathers of some people. Most of the "hate" is aimed at F.T. "Mike" Graham, and the rest at Norman Geary. The divisiveness clouds the real purpose of the district and the beneficial things that it has done.

The House Executive Committee recently heard a series of bills aimed at crippling the district. The bills were artfully crafted not to include the DuPage County Forest Preserve Dist., Why? Because the bills would never have seen the light of day in the Senate where DuPage County political power James "Pate" Philip serves as Minority Leader. In the House, Minority Leader Lee Daniels also would have protected his county's interests.

Where there is abuse, it should be eliminated. The acquisition of private property through condemnation should always be a last resort, in my opinion. I don't hear any wails against the awesome powers of state government when it builds highways. Its "quick-take" condemnation powers...take now, and pay later, can be brutal.

The U.S. Constitution does, in the 5th Amendment, protect the taking of private property without just compensation. For many people, it is not the price of their property that is as important as the fact that they want to continue to live where they are. To me, that is important and that's why condemnation should be a last resort.

Whenever there have been large-scale acquisitions for public uses there has been emotional disruption. Remember, years back, when the city of Chicago condemned property for Circle Campus. A whole neighborhood was uprooted, Florence Scala led the fight to save the homes. Remember, too, when the state uprooted families along the Illinois Lake Michigan beachfront—many more than the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. Through the years, the courts have protected the public use. It is so important that the taking of private land must serve a higher public use. I sense that in the years to come the courts will give closer scrutiny to insure that the public purpose is best served by the acquisition.

It would be a shame if the storm that has been raised, and much of it politically, would severely restrict the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. from exercising its legitimate function. It can protect the quality of life for future generations by guaranteeing open space, greenery, and wetlands in an urbanized county. Lake County will be highly developed, make no mistake of that. It can be orderly, though, interspersed with open space that enhances the value of property.

Lake County...all of us...will be better served by cooperation and meshing of ideas and programs for the public good, than by political bashing and mashing.

Andrea Moore, a Lake County Board member who is not in the "majority bloc" saw the asininity of bills aimed at Lake County. She was in committee as an opponent, and I believe that she was there to protect the public's interest. For that, I commend her.

Mainly, I hope that, without legislation, the district can "get its act together," improve its public image, and serve its intended public purpose.

Both sides in the controversy surrounding acquisition of the 993-acre Picket Fence Farm near Grayslake by the Forest Preserve Dist. are charging subterfuge. The case will go to trial in September—if there are no more delays.

Owner Harold Anderson said this means his property has been in limbo for 18 months. It was June 3, 1988, the county filed a condemnation suit. Until that time Anderson said he was actively pursuing annexation of the property to Grayslake for 4,000 apartments, townhouses and 2.5-acre estates.

Atty. Donald Morrison of the Forest Preserve Dist., says it's not his fault. He claims neither Anderson nor his attorney have cooperated in providing information or being available for depositions. A scheduled May 30 court date was canceled at the last minute. Anderson came up with 13 expert witnesses—five in real estate, four land planners, two civil engineers and two soil experts.

No information could be obtained about these people or their testimony, Morrison said. Even the Village of Grayslake stonewalled him, Morrison said, refusing to provide files to the point they were subpoenaed. Then, Anderson's attorney said he will be "in Europe and elsewhere on vacation all summer and not available for trial until September." That's where 18 months went.

In Libertyville a good organization to belong to is the Condell Memorial Hospital Auxiliary. The group has countless good works to its credit, mostly on behalf of the hospital.

JoAnn Eckmann

It also has some interesting political connections. Newly-elected Libertyville Mayor JoAnn Eckmann is a member.

So is new Trustee Nancy Kreuser, who Eckmann appointed earlier this month.

And so is Village Clerk Nancy Bloomer. She was elevated from church secretary to the job held previously by Kreuser. As matter of fact, she is first vice president of the organization.

*****

One person doesn't mind taking credit for F.T. "Mike" Graham's downfall as Libertyville Twp. supervisor. He is Jim Boulton, owner of two Mundelein apartment buildings and an office complex.

Boulton also owns 22 acres in the Middle Fork Savannah near Lake Forest where the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. wants to acquire 800 acres. "To protect the homes around Lake Forest they want to give me peanuts," Boulton said of offers from the county.

When one of his apartment tenants inadvertently was issued a $575 township check to help pay the March rent instead of the usual $125, Boulton got angry. He made a photocopy of the check, minus the recipient's name, and took a picture of the tenant's new Buick LeSabre. He printed both in flyers opposing Graham's April election and had them distributed.

"Those getting a rent subsidy from the township drive a better car than I do," Boulton said. "Then, arrogant people like Graham have the audacity to raise taxes and make ridiculously low offers for Forest Preserve land while taxpayers foot the bill for more rent subsidies."

Mayor Marilyn Sindles of Mundelein likes policemen. So much so she has been married to one for 20 years.

Edward Sindles isn't just any old police officer. He retired several years ago as a lieutenant on the Mundelein police force after 20 years. Today he is deputy superintendent in charge of operations at the new Lake County Jail in Waukegan.

For the past 15 years he has been an instructor in the criminal justice program at the College of Lake County.

"My wife has a lot of meetings and I have a few commitments, but we always have time for each other," Ed said.

Letters to editor

Exercise of power

Editor:

The fanatics (land grabbers) are designating farms, business and homes for the good of the people. Not true! They are doing it for power. If it was for the good of the people, they wouldn't have spent $25,000 of taxpayers' money to hire a lobbyist to stop those bills from passing in Springfield.

One bill asked for a two thirds vote of the Lake County Forest Preserve Board instead of the simple majority. The other bill gives the public an opportunity to vote if the parcel does not fit the district's goal for preserving sensitive areas. They want to control the people with their power.

Those bills would have passed but Rep. John Matijevich used his power by putting on the pressure in Springfield. What a waste of $25,000 for a lobbyist, when they should have just gone to Rep. John Matijevich instead. Matijevich isn't for the people either. He wouldn't listen to the people when they wanted to tell their side of the story.

It's a shame we voted for these politicians to work for the people. The longer some of them are in office they want the power. Don't forget those power hungry representatives come next election. That's when the people can show their power.

Clearing up who's who

Editor:

Is State Rep. Grace Mary Stern correct in saying F.T. "Mike" Graham has done more for preserving wildlife in Lake County? You have to be a special kind of person to designate all this property from the people who preserved it in the first place---at no cost to the taxpayer.

Graham said to over 100 people that Ranney and Donnelley have done more for preserving Lake County than anyone. They happen to be Graham backers and are planning to develop some of their land. What does Graham say to that? There are good developers and bad developers! Does that make any sense? Why does Mike get to choose who is bad and who is good?

Mary and Mike better get it together. Is it Mike or is it Ranney and Donnelley who preserve the land? I say it's the people who dug the ponds, planted the trees and fed the wildlife---at no cost to the taxpayer.

Our debt to Graham

countryside he loved. He cares very deeply about preserving the fields, the forests and the wetlands - about keeping water and air clean and plentiful for those who will come after us. He was the inventive mind behind the Township Open Space act which made it possible for townships to purchase and maintain beautiful areas. The breeding and reproduction of shopping malls, parking lots and small strips of stores throughout the suburban area were an assault to his eyes as well as to his soul.

As the administrator of the Libertyville Township Open Space District, Graham was the proverbial kid in a candy store. He wanted this piece - and that piece - and that one over there. Perhaps he lost control. I cannot judge the manner in which he managed the district; I was in Springfield doing other things and not watching up close.

I can however, say with absolute moral certainty that Graham did nothing to profit personally from any purchase or condemnation made by the Open Space District. Is he a perfect human being, incapable of making errors? By no means. Graham is a man besotted with nature and he just couldn't get enough.

The election in April has effectively removed him from the candy store. He has acknowledged publicly and in the press that he over-reached, that he was unwise in pursuit of some acquisitions. And he was defeated. That's how the small "D" democratic system works, friends. He over-reached and he was defeated.

Is there any need to gloat? Is there any need to imply venality? Not in my book. Mike Graham has made difference here in Lake County and none of us will ever again take for granted the wind in the high grass, the loveliness of the trees and streams of our as-yet unpaved areas—and we shall watch very carefully, thanks to him, what plans the developers and home builders unroll for our delectation. No matter how all the current unpleasantness ends—and I assume his innocent addiction for open space will become clear to everyone before long—we all owe a great debt to Mike Graham.

Thank you, Mike.

Problems of senior care, cost gets prohibitive

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

Dire warnings about the future of the care of senior citizens in the United States are coming out of government agencies.

We all know that seniors are living longer. The statistics say that today, the large group of baby boomers (40 years old plus), are supporting seniors through taxes and other means.

Now the warning comes that 25 years from now, the numbers will be turned around and an ever-growing senior population will be relying on a much smaller workforce for their support.

These same statistics go on to say that there is little help to be seen from the corporate front with six million companies operating nationwide and only 4,000 offering any benefits for eldercare.

It gets worse. The prediction is that inside of 40 years, or by 2030, an estimated 21 percent of all Americans will be over 65 and over half of these over 85 years old.

There are many alternative ways that today's seniors are living in retirement.

On the top of the list is a category of seniors that retired happily in the 1960s and 1970s, that is fast dwindling.

This was the successful middle management white or blue collar worker that worked for a company up to 25 years; had a savings account and made modest investments; had raised his family and had a $100,000 plus house paid for; Received a reasonable retirement from the company he worked for (working wife also got a retirement check) and also got some monthly monies from Social Security.

If health allowed (then Medicare benefits were much greater), these were the lucky middle class people who traveled a lot during their retirement; sold their paid for homes and headed to Florida, Arizona or California to bask in the sun, lead the easy life and have a fairly good standard of living on their monthly checks.

But we also have read the newspaper headlines that show corporations, with the bottom profit line their main interest, are getting rid of medium and high salaried managers and executives when they "get over the hill," at ages ranging from 45 to 55 years old, an age when other companies also find them too high priced to hire and too near collecting from their own retirement programs.

Taking all seniors off of the tax rolls would put the burden of schools, sewers, etc. on the already overburdened family's shoulders.

This practise eliminates high-paid salaries (no matter how well earned) and also those heavy retirement benefits, sometime lowering the company's insurance premiums.

The group (non-union with no recourse) that this could happen to comprises the largest part of today's workforce.

Then comes the long job hunt where words like "over qualified," translation "too old," are heard, even when one is willing to work for lower wages to get a cash flow.

Most of one's savings and retirement set-a-sides can disappear, until a much lower paying job is finally found.

The fact that Social Security is based on salaries earned just before retirement, also means our unfortunate friend will be getting a lower monthly Social Security if he survives financially that long.

Then we have the single senior, in comparatively good health who tries to stay in her own home by living frugally, put in a bind because of her static income and the ever growing prices, cost of help and tax rise.

If a senior sells a paid-for home and has a fairly decent monthly income (Social Security plus) retirement villages such as Leisure Village in Fox Lake relieve the pressure of home and yard maintenance, while supplying life with one's own peer group.

The peer group and the planned social activities are the only difference between purchasing a condo or town house in any other complex.

There are many senior housing developments like Cedar Village in Lake Villa, which only asks that one be 62 years old or older, to qualify for small two and one bedroom apartments.

companionship and some sort of social One month's rent must be paid in advance and thereafter one is required to pay 30 percent of their net income, minus the cost of medical insurance and existing doctor bills not covered by insurance, every month.

The planned activities and senior companionship, and the fact that people on public aid can apply and be accepted (on paper), makes this the ideal retirement mode, but alas, Cedar Village, and most other such senior housing subsidized by the Ill. Housing Authority, has more than a six year long waiting list.

Statistics also show that the average nursing home cost is approximately $25,000 per year, or from $50 to $250 per day, depending on the quality of the care.

Most seniors stay in a nursing home for two-and-one-half years, depleting all the senior's savings and probably digging deeply into the surviving family's income.

Again, many private nursing homes will accept public aid, but that list is also a very long one.

Meanwhile, back at the child's home, its time to make room for daddy or mommy, whomever the case may be.

In many cases children have to spend money to add on rooms to house one or more of their parents.

Then hopefully, barring illness, any income received by the senior can go to help cover their day to day expenses.

Hopefully again, family love will help keep the mixing of three generations of thoughts, actions and habits on a comparatively even keel.

Many other problems, stemming from the elderly living with their children, arise if they are not completely self-sufficient, because of today's working wives. Some of these problems can be alleviated by visiting nurse and eldercare programs supplied by some hospitals and Catholic Charities. The Meals on Wheels program also makes sure seniors get at least one hot meal full of nourishment daily, whether they are living alone or just home alone during the day while living with their children.

With the somewhat disturbing outlook of more and more seniors, living longer and longer, with less and less money available for their support, maybe the movie "Solient Green," has jumped from a fantasy to a possible reality.

Remember, it took place in the future where there was a life threatening lack food and fuel, so people who reached a certain age were taken into a room, put into a comfortable bed, had movies on their favorite subject surrounding them, and while their favorite music was playing, were put quietly to sleep forever, removing the burden of their survival from the shoulders of the younger generation.

Certainly, raising taxes that are already too high to get more senior funding is not the answer.

Taking all seniors off of the tax rolls would put the burden of schools, sewers etc. on the already overburdened family's shoulders.

One good suggestion has businesses divert a small part of their profits towards senior care. Other alternatives have not come to mind, but there is no doubt that those who know must get working on this problem or else a great part of the future world will be inhabited by even more street people and bag ladies.

Wadsworth wetlands project could be model

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following AP wire story is being published not only because of its local significance, but its importance nationally as well. This experimental project in the Village of Wadsworth is helping scientists learn how wetlands work and could serve as a model for similar efforts elsewhere.

BY DAVID ROCKS
ASSOCIATED PRESS WRITER

WADSWORTH, IL—The prairie marshes, ponds and streams near Wadsworth would look familiar to the Europeans who first settled northern Illinois 150 years ago.

But the wetlands today are being fed by a maze of underground pipes with the flow of water from the Des Plaines River regulated by a computer.

It's part of a $10-million project to help scientists better understand wetlands. Researchers worldwide are watching, because the work could become a model for similar projects to restore vital marshes and swamps.

"We're aiming for a natural prairie landscape, so when you look across it you will see what the early explorers would have seen," says Donald Hey, who heads the 450-acre Des Plaines River Wetlands Demonstration Project.

"Most of what we're doing is trying to compensate for the loss of landscape through the introduction of concrete and controls," says Hey, director of Wetlands Research Inc., a non-profit group funded by corporate and government grants.

Nationwide, more than half the 200 million acres of wetlands that existed when European settlers arrived on the continent have disappeared. They continue to be destroyed at an annual rate of 275,000 acres, or more than one-third the area of Rhode Island, according to figures compiled by the federal Fish and Wildlife Service.

Wetlands — marshes, swamps and bayous — can soak up flood waters and help improve water quality, many conservationists say.

"One of the key values of wetlands is they serve as a kind of a filter — some people might call it a kidney — within an aquatic system," says David Davis, director of the Environmental Protection Agency's wetlands protection program.

"We need to be finding ways to restore areas that have been degraded," Davis said in a telephone interview from Washington.

He said the Des Plaines project probably will be examined around the country as a model for other projects spurred by increased awareness of wetlands and their benefits.

The 3-mile stretch of the Des Plaines River, about an hour's drive north of Chicago's Loop, will in the next few years be restored to the kind of flora and fauna that inhabited the site before settlers drained it for farming in the 1850s.

"We're reversing a 130-year trend," Hey says. "We're taking out a lot of vegetation that is ecologically out of place."

Much of the vegetation that had overtaken the natural plants during the last century-and-a-half has been cleared. That has involved bulldozing the land so it more resembles its natural contour, and taking out many of the trees that settlers had planted.

"It was choked — it was overgrown with trees when we started," Hey says. "I've been amazed that there hasn't been more outcry over the cutting of the trees."

Where the project has been completed, the bullrush marshes are peppered with highlands of oak, making the site a textured patchwork of browns and greys. Since the beginning of the spring, it has begun to turn various shades of green and migratory birds have returned to roost.

Hey hopes to see more of the osprey, heron and bufflehead duck, as well as fox and beaver that have already begun to repopulate the area.

The site looks like a nature preserve, but with numerous conduits, pumps and monitoring stations hooked up to an on-site computer, the project is also a laboratory for experimenting with various aspects of wetlands management.

Hey says the project will explore what water depths, soils and plant types are most effective in improving water quality, how long to retain the water, and what kinds of other elements are needed in the system.

Plans ultimately call for another four experimental areas by the time construction is completed in early 1990, Hey says. (AP)

Lake County wins eight national awards

Lake County has been honored by the National Assn. of Counties (NACo) for eight of its governmental programs.

Lake County was named a 1989 Achievement Award winner by John P. Thomas, executive director of NACo.

Achievement Award winners are selected from a national competition. Awards are presented to counties who have developed programs or who are conducting programs that enhance or expand county services to citizens or that improve or ganizational management.

The County Achievement Awards will be presented at NACo's 1989 annual conference to be held in Hamilton County (Cincinnati), Ohio July 15 to 18.

Winning eight awards were six county agencies: The Public Defender; the Dept. of Management Services; the States Attorney; the Lake County Sheriff;

the Forest Preserve Dist.; and the Lake County Health Dept.

The States Attorney's office received an award for the Victim Assistance in Homicide Cases Program. The Public Defender and Dept. of Management Services received an award for the Management Defender Information System. The Sheriff's Office was recognized for Court Security Program. The Forest Preserve received an award for the Deer Management Education Program. The Health Dept. was honored with four awards for the Lake County Health Dept. Handbook; the Clustered Apartment Program; Resource and Referral Program; and the Influenza Prevention Program.

Lake County Board Chairman Norman C.

Geary, upon being notified by NACo of the 1989 awards, was highly complimentary to the recipient departments. He noted that these Achievement Awards are indicative of the highly innovative and quality services that Lake County citizens are receiving. He pointed out how very much the departments look forward to this annual competition.

News, Views & Questions About Your Eyes

By

Robert L. Epstein, M.D., Director
Illinois Center for Corrective Eye Surgery

QUESTION: Would you please explain to me what a cataract actually is?

ANSWER: A cataract is a clouding of the normally clear lens of the eye. This clouding, a natural aging of the lens in most cases, prevents light from passing through the lens to the back of the eye, or retina. Much like the lens of your camera focuses light on the film, the lens of your eye focuses light on the retina. If the front of your camera's lens becomes dirty or fogged, then the picture taken will be hazy or blurred.

Luebbers,
one family's success story

by MIKE PRAMSHAFER
Lakeland Newspapers

"Personalized service and treating your customers fairly" are two ingredients which have made Luebbers Pharmacy one of the most successful and stabilized establishments in the Libertyville area for the past 21 years.

Owner Art Luebbers believes that's the way a business should be run and his track record proves it.

After he purchased the pharmacy in 1968, Art has since relocated his business twice within the Libertyville area, each time doubling the size of the store. "Business kept getting better and better and we were expanding so much that we just needed more space to operate," he said.

Guess what? Luebbers is moving again. The pharmacy will be relocating from its present location in the Cambridge Plaza Shopping Center to the Greentree Shopping Plaza on Milwaukee Ave. "There seems to be a lot more activity in that area and I think there's an excellent opportunity for Luebbers to better serve the community in that location," said Luebbers, a 20-year member of the Libertyville Rotary Club.

This particular pharmacy business actually has very deep roots in the Libertyville community. It was first established on the corner of Church St. and Milwaukee Ave. in 1929 by Harry Taylor, and he was joined by co-owner Bill Wilson in 1944. Wilson then purchased sole ownership of the establishment in 1957.

Luebbers, a graduate of Drake University in Iowa, joined the company one year later and obtained sole ownership in 1968. Five

All in the family

Luebbers Pharmacy in Libertyville prides itself on personalized service and treating its customers fairly. Owned by Art Luebbers (middle) since 1968, the pharmacy has been one of the most successful establishments in the Libertyville area for the past 21 years. years later, Art moved his business to the Rockland Plaza and stayed there until 1979, which is when Luebbers relocated to its present facility.

A family man, Art and his wife, Shirley, are the parents of three daughters and one son. One could truly say that Luebbers is a family-run business because all but two of the family members work at the pharmacy, including a nephew.

Art's son, Matt, manages the front end of the store, while his daughter, Dawn, takes care of the gift buying portion of the business. Shirley also helps out by assisting Dawn on a regular basis. Art's nephew, Paul McIlrath, is the pharmacist.

Art's other daughters, Wendy and Amy, do not work at the store currently. Wendy resides in Milwaukee, while Amy is following in her father's footsteps by attending Drake University.

"Being a family-oriented business, I believe, is another reason why we've done pretty well with the store. There's a great deal of trust between all of us and I think you really need that to be successful."

"It's nice to have the kids around, and with Shirley helping out, it really provides for a delightful atmosphere. We treat our customers as if they were one of the family members and I really think that way of doing business has helped us gain respectability in the business community," said Luebbers.

He added, "I am a firm believer of treating the customers the way you yourself would like to be treated."

Lake County job scene unclear

The summer's positive hiring gains will be offset by a fair degree of reductions in the Waukegan/Lake County area, say respondents in the latest quarterly Employment Outlook Survey from Manpower, Inc., the world's largest temporary help service.

In releasing survey findings for the third quarter of 1989, Chuck Bartels, owner of Manpower's Waukegan/Lake County area operations, reported today that 29 percent of the area employers polled forecast new hiring activity in the July/August/September period, 16 percent to lower staff levels and 52 percent foresee no changes. The remaining 3 percent are undecided.

Last year at this time, the local job market was stronger, as 43 percent of those surveyed planned to add workers, while 7 percent expected to decrease staff size. Three months ago, 23 percent planned to hire and 7 percent to cut back.

Nationwide, employers appear quite optimistic this summer, as 30 percent of the more than 14,000 companies contacted are reporting plans to increase staff levels and only 6 percent expect a workforce decline. Here in the Midwest, 31 percent predict more job opportunities and 6 percent see cuts.

Why should you choose an emergency room before you need one?

Because all emergency rooms are not alike!

The emergency room at Saint Therese Medical Center is proud to be the only Level II Trauma Center in North Lake County. Level II is a special designation awarded by the State of Illinois to emergency rooms that meet a long list of rigorous standards.

One requirement is top qualified professionals. That's why our emergency room is fully staffed with trauma nurse specialists and the most board-certified emergency room specialists in the county. Plus, trauma surgeons and other specialists are on call 24 hours a day.

So, if one of life's emergencies occurs—big or small—you can be assured that Saint Therese is bound by the State to provide the highest level of care in the area—24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

And, to round out our emergency services, the Saint Therese Area Trauma Satellite on Rt. 59 at Rt. 132 in Lake Villa is open from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m., seven days a week.

Film Review

Guess what? Some Hollywood brain came up with the idea of making a movie about baseball! Just what the big screen needed was another diamond yarn, but as diamond yarns go, "Field of Dreams" is a passably good flick.

Of course the best thing in this one is the star Kevin Costner, who just can't seem to do any wrong as far as movie-goers are concerned.

What we have here is a fantasy full of "Happy Days" platitudes, surrounding Costner and his family and his successful efforts to follow orders from spiritual voices to build a baseball diamond in part of his corn field.

The group that shows up to play on this "corny" diamond includes former baseball players that just didn't seem to get their chance like "Shoeless" Joe Jackson of Black Sox Scandal fame.

Burt Lancaster, playing a doctor who really wanted a big career in the major leagues, not the rather short one he had, is seen in a great cameo role.

It's a good one for the entire family. A refreshing portrayal of Costner's wife is turned in by Amy Madigan.

Remember movie goers, this one is for people who are so fanatic about baseball that they love anything connected with it. Most of the diamond reference is talk, though there is some ball playing, fans would probably appreciate a little more real shining on the diamond.

This should be one of the biggest draws of the summer season. Let's give it a three out of five.

Hawaii's valley of paradise

by JIM WARREN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Would you like to find a lush tropical valley where oranges grow to the size of grapefruits, where avocados grow wild, where orchids are as common as weeds? Where is this land of Paradise?

It's known as Waipio Valley, and you'll find it on the Island of Hawaii, largest Island in the Hawaiian chain. (The "big" Island.)

More specifically, it's on the northeast coast of the island at the end of Route 24. There you'll come to a lookout point where you can see down into the valley. You have a choice here. You can either hike down the very steep dirt road into the valley or take the "Waipio Valley Shuttle."

The shuttle is actually a jeep ride you'll long remember. For $10, your guide will take you down an awesome looking road for an hour-and-a-half tour of the valley. If you're lucky enough to get David for a guide, you'll also learn of the many legends about the Hawaiian royalty, said to be buried in the valley. David's tours usually stretch into two to three hours.

David was born here. At one time, there were over 4,000 people living in the valley. Now, his father is one of its few residents.

You will visit a black sand beach at the mouth of the valley. Then, ride up-river to the 1,000-foot Hiilawe Falls. You'll find plants found nowhere else but in this valley, one of which wilts immediately if touched by a human hand. In the river itself is found a type of freshwater shrimp, again very rare. Wild fruit and flowers abound everywhere! David is very good at making a football helmet out of grapefruit skins for the kids. He'll also see that you leave the valley with enough wild fruit to feed you the rest of your stay in Hawaii.

When you do visit Hawaii's big Island, a visit to Waipio Valley is a must.

Alexson to teach master dance class

Fred Alexson will present a Dance Master Class Sunday, June 25 from 3 - 5 p.m. at the Jack Benny Center for the Arts in Waukegan. The fee is $20. The class is open to all serious and non-serious dancers over the age of 10 who are willing to come and experience a dynamic and beneficial new technique.

Alexson, throughout his career, has been associated with the Boston Ballet Company, the Chicago Ballet Company and the American Ballet Theatre. His classes help dancers of all ages in preparing and repairing their bodies for not only immediate use, but also for longevity of use. Alexson emphasizes correct individual development through sensible use of technique.

"The student learns to become his own teacher," Alexson said of his program. "Many dancers know something is wrong, but either don't know what it is or know what it is but not how to correct it. Here they learn what to work on and how to work on it. It helps the less perfect body find perfection."

Alexson's routine is performed at the traditional ballet barre accompanied by his special exercises. These exercises help eliminate many of the more common body problems created by pedestrian bad habits and those inherited by specific individual body differences.

Registration for the master class is being taken at the Jack Benny Center for the Arts, 39 Jack Benny Dr. in Bowen Park, Waukegan or by calling (312)244-1660.

Mers offers dining in finest historical aura

by GLORIA DAVIS
Entertainment Editor

Experts claim that the three most important qualities of a fine restaurant are good food, attractive atmosphere, and fast, thoughtful service.

If this is what most dining customers want, the perfect place to find them is at Mers Restaurant on the shores of beautiful Bangs Lake in Wauconda.

The good food comes from the kitchen of Chef Lupe Diaz, who oversees the stocking of Mers' famous salad bar, filled with homemade salads and topped with freshly made special dressings.

Perfectly cooked prime rib and succulent fresh seafood are the top menu items.

The Mers' family's 30 years of successfully serving their customers at the same site, more than guarantees satisfactory service, anytime of the day or night, seven days a week and every holiday except for Christmas Day.

What better atmosphere for a restaurant in the Lakeland area than the sparky and comfortable nautical settings at Mers?

If it's a banquet room that is required, Mers well trained staff offers a main dining room capacity of 200 and they can service 130 people in the main banquet room.

For entertainment, Mers has a dance floor with live music on the weekends, a cocktail lounge that seats 50, and video game room.

Mers serves food from 11:30 a.m. to 10 p.m., Monday through Thursday, closing at 11 p.m. on Sunday.

The cocktail lounge opens until 2 a.m. on weekends.

On Saturday and Sunday, the food and drink start to flow at 11:30 a.m. and service shuts down at 11 p.m.

The building that Mers is located on is over one century old, starting out as a stage stop, that later became a boarding house for railroad crews and travelers.

Of course a lot of expansion has taken place since the Mers family took over about 31 years ago.

And more to come, we promise!

Choices

Diners at John's Garage in Hawthorn Center have choice of warmly cluttered dining inside, surrounded by auto paraphanelia, or outside on John's airy terrace.

Dining at John's Garage is a real, bonafide gas!

by GLORIA DAVIS
 Entertainment Editor

One of the most popular restaurants in the area is John's Garage and Filling Station, located in Hawthorn Center in Vernon Hills.

Now normally, dining in someone's garage isn't too appealing, but it is the way that John does it.

The warm dark wood booths, nestled among thousands of piece of automobile memorabilia that cover the walls and ceilings, make dining at John's an interesting and fun experience.

The drinks are large and delicious, some carrying out the car motif with labels like the Super Charger.

On the menu, under the title Spare Parts, are listed some of the best appetizers around. The breaded zucchini and fried cheese sticks are out of this world.

Besides the great variety of huge and hearty burgers and --, John's is probably best known for a daily fresh gigantic salad bar.

Outstanding menu items include the Gourmet Garage Burger (burger with sauteed onions, peppers and smoked ham, covered with melted American and Muenster cheese); quesadillas (grilled tortillas stuffed with cheese, refried beans, rice, sour cream, guacamole, and spicy salsa.)

Top this cuisine delight with a generous piece of Mud Pie Ala Garage. What's in it? Head to Hawthorn Center and find out!

The comfortable and casual dining spot also has patio dining, weather permitting. And if it's just a drink and a little fun and socializing you're after, John's drinks are huge and the variety is of the magnum.

There is also a big screen tv with a satellite dish bringing in important sporting events.

Critics Choice

Tap dancing enhances otherwise dated plot

by GLORIA DAVIS
Entertainment Editor

Candlelight Dinner Theatre's production of "Forty Second Street," which opened last week, retains all the flash, brash and hokiness of the Broadway version of the musical that was a smash hit for two separate generations.

As in the 1930's version, also as in the Ruby Keeler movie and in the early 1980's Broadway revival, the music of Harry Warren and Al Dubbin, when heard from a stage full of eager young tap dancers, is the very best part of the show. Ergo the second act, which has both of the dynamite numbers, "Lullabye of Broadway," and the title song, is where the show stoppers are.

The show is set on Broadway in the days when every singer's and dancer's dream was to somehow be an overnight success on the

"Big White Way."

This is the same time two kids named Judy Garland and Mickey Rooney were cranking out tons of flicks in which everything was solved after one of those kids said, "I know. Let's do a show."

The greatest piece of dialogue in "42nd Street," is between chorus girl-soon-to-be-a-star, Peggy, played by Ann-Marie Rogers, and the big Broadway producer, Julian Marsh (Gary Holcombe). Holcombe, whose star has just broken her leg, in order to avert a show closing, entreats Rogers to spend the next 36 hours learning hundreds of lines, zillions of dance routines and thousands of songs. "You can do it for these kids, help them keep their jobs."

Holcombe is perfect as Julian Marsh, appearing old enough to be believable in the part, yet not too old to carry off the little romantic side of the plot and a vice booming enough for the Broadway number.

Linda Balgord is in good voice as she plays a properly snobbish star, but Rogers, with her naivete and sheer musical talent, steals the show. Doug Okerson as the text book singing juvenile helps, along with the chorus, each a terpsichorean delight.

This one teeters onto a four out of a possible five on the rating charts.

Opera House sets agenda

A special season ticket opportunity for productions of the two community theater companies headquartered in the Woodstock Opera House was announced today by Brian Sager.

Sager is president of the Woodstock Musical Theatre Co., which along with Townsquare Players presents productions at the Opera House throughout the year.

One advantage of the season ticket for five shows is a 10 percent savings. A second benefit is the chance to select the same seat choice for all shows, said Sager. "Get the best seats in the house at a 10 percent discount until Aug. 15," he said.

"The two local companies are cooperating in this season ticket program to encourage participation and to make people aware of the many good theatrical productions in McHenry County."

Persons wishing more information or to obtain an order form should contact the Opera House box office at (815)338-5300. Master and VISA cards are accepted.

Shows planned are the following: weekends, Oct. 6 through Oct. 22, "42

Street," WMT; weekends, Nov. 3 through Nov. 19, "Fiddler on the Roof," Townsquare Players; weekends, Jan. 19 through Feb. 4, "Side by Side by Sondheim," WMT; weekends, March 9 through March 25, "Arsenic and Old Lace," Townsquare Players; weekends, April 13 through April 29, "1776," WMT.

Lake County At A Glance

RV, Boat Show

ANTIOCH — The Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry is sponsoring its annual RV, Boat and Auto Show, this weekend, starting Friday evening and running Saturday and Sunday. The vehicular displays can be seen in the east parking lot of Antioch High School at the intersection of Rtes. 173-83. There will also be live entertainment and prize give-a-ways.

Richmond hotel fire

RICHMOND — The 100-year-old Richmond landmark, the Richmond Hotel, burned to the ground early Monday morning, leaving one resident dead and seven others injured. The fire started at 5 a.m., keeping Rtes. 12 and 31, going south of Rte. 173, closed the bulk of the day. Nine fire departments from Illinois and Wisconsin helped to extinguish the blaze. The Fiesta Pub on the first floor and the Gypsy Antique Market on the second floor were also destroyed. The cause of the fire is still under investigation by the state fire marshal.

Charge youth

GURNEE—A Chicago youth is facing three charges following a shooting incident at Six Flags Great America. Jermaine McDonald, age 17, of Chicago, has been charged with mob action, reckless conduct and unlawful use of weapons. Gurnee Police Chief Larry Dluhos said it is likely McDonald will be tried as an adult.

McDonald was charged in the alleged shooting of Charles Edwards, also of Chicago, in a June 17 incident. It took place in the bus parking lot at the Gurnee theme park.

Rte. 53 blamed

MUNDELEIN—Village trustees are balking about approving the new 165-home Cambridge Countryside because lots are an average of 13,000 square feet (some as low as 10,000 square feet) instead of the promised 15,000 square feet. Cambridge President Richard Brown said state acquisition of a 300-foot corridor for the planned Rte. 53 forced him to scale back lot sizes in the subdivision of $235,000 to $245,000 homes.

OK annexation

GRAYSLAKE—The Grayslake Village Board approved annexation of property owned by Florence McKay at its last board meeting. The 26 acres is located off Washington St. near the College of Lake County and west of Mariner's Cove subdivision.

The action completes work on an annexation petition submitted last year by property owner Florence McKay. The property is located off Washington St.

Geese lose home

LIBERTYVILLE—Geese making a mess on Riverside Park Golf Course were scheduled to be rounded up and shipped off to a southern Illinois lake this week. The every-other-year eviction was done by the Department of Natural Resources. Golfers began complaining about playing through the progressively large droppings left by the 56 feathered birds. Bird lovers can take heart. New geese will arrive in the fall to take up residence, as they do each year.

Fete school drug war

LIBERTYVILLE—Drug free school! That is the award received Monday in a White House Rose Garden Ceremony by four representatives of Libertyville High School. The school is among 47 in 24 states—23 of them high schools—and the only school in Illinois to be honored. The award, from the U.S. Department of Education, recognizes in-school and community programs aimed at curbing or eliminating drug and alcohol abuse. A symbolic flag to fly in front of the school was also presented.

Clamp down on water

LAKE ZURICH—Mayor James Kay commented to the Lake Zurich Board of Trustees that the village should clamp down on water restriction violations. Trustee Gary Winchester, who said he saw people washing their cars and sprinkling their lawns before the 6 to 9 p.m. allocated sprinkling time, agreed with Kay to enforce the restriction. "Apparently the message was not strong enough" that there is a water ban, Winchester commented.

Bike safety

WAUCONDA—The Wauconda Police Dept. began a program this month to enforce bicycle safety and registration village ordinances. In what Chief Bernard Goodyear calls "soft enforcement," police officers that encounter bicyclists under 18 years old have been stopping to talk to them, checking for registration and inspecting bicycles for safety. Violators of the bicycle safety ordinances, instead of being issued a ticket and fined, will be issued warning citations and required to go to a bicycle safety class.

Driver hits utility pole

A Libertyville driver was charged with driving under the influence after his vehicle knocked down a utility pole in sight of an oncoming police officer.

Mark Hampton, 25, of 119 Sunset Dr., Libertyville, was driving his 1988 Ford pickup east on Park Ave. About 11 p.m. on June 18 a westbound Lake County sheriff's deputy saw a flash in the sky ahead of him. A moment later a truck approached with extensive front-end damage.

The deputy drove several blocks and came upon a utility pole laying in the street.

The deputy turned his car around and began searching for the truck. He found it a few blocks away at the driver's address just off Park Ave. Hampton was charged with wrong lane usage and driving under the influence.

2 abductors still on loose

Mundelein police are still looking for two suspects, who abducted a visiting Frankfort, Ill., man at gunpoint June 8.

The man was forced into a car at the Jewel store parking lot and driven through a nearby residential neighborhood while being robbed of $75. He was released in the parking lot of the Venture store.

Police theorize the two abductors were brothers. They had similar facial characteristics, were in their mid 20s, about 165 pound and wore gold chain earring in their left ear.

Several people called police last week in response to a composite published in area newspapers. None of the tips led to the suspects. Anyone with information is urged to call the Mundelein Police Dept.

Juvenile Assn. elects officers, board members

The Lake County Juvenile Officers Assn.'s annual banquet was held at the Country Squire Restaurant in Grayslake. The new 1989-90 officers and executive board members were sworn in by Juvenile Court Judge Barbara Gilliran-Johnson.

The new officers are: president, Officer Brian Hallwas, Lake County Forest Preserve Dist.; vice-president, Officer Rita Dunn, Lake Bluff Police Dept.; treasurer, Bob Cesar, Lake County Court Services; secretary, Rose Helmer, Omni Youth Services (Mundelein); and Sgt.-at-Arms Doryce McCarthy, Omni Youth Services (Lake Zurich). Also elected to the executive board were Sue Korpai, Lake County Court Services, and Bryan Philbin, Adolescent Chemical Dependency Program, Victory Hospital.

Awards were also presented in seven categories. Ken Eldridge of Lake Zurich received the President's Award. This award is presented to a youth who was involved in the juvenile justice system and, as a result, improved his lifestyle and achieved the goal of becoming a responsible citizen.

Dennis and Ronnie Mudd of Libertyville received the Citizen's Award for working with youth and families in their community. Harley Gold received the Dept. of Children and Family Services Award in recognition of his work with families as a part of the investigative unit. Officer Ino Saldivar of the Libertyville Police Dept. was the recipient of the Juvenile Officer of the Year Award for his many years of work with youth, especially in the area of crime prevention.

The Court Services Award was given to Joe Kelroy for his work with youth in the juvenile justice system. The Social Services Award was given to Rose Helmer of Omni Youth Services in Mundelein for her work with youth and her contributions to the JOA. Phil Kirschbaum received the award to the JOA Hall of Fame. He was the director of Warren Twp. Youth Services, and is now in private practice.

Retired Officers Assn. completes successful year

The North Shore and Chicago Chapter, Inc., of the Retired Officers Assn. completed a highly successful year of sponsorship of the National TROA ROTC Awards Program. According to Col. Charles Lucas, director of public relations and chairman of the awards program, 12 medals were given to students from five universities and seven high schools.

Colleges recognized included Northwestern, Loyola, DePaul, Univ. of Ill. at Chicago and Chicago State Univ. High schools were Waukegan East and West, Wheeling and four high schools from the Chicago Public Schools. Medals were presented at awards ceremonies during the period of March 31 through June 2, and were presented by Col. John Richey, Capt. Richard Lick and Col. Lucas.

The award is a handsome medal designed to recognize military interest, command capacity, academic ability and present intention to pursue a military career, either after high school graduation, or in college as a ROTC cadet. The medal incorporates the TROA Seven Services Seal on a round bronze medal with a red, white and blue pendant. The award has been officially recognized by the Dept. of Defense.

In presenting the award, the Retired Officers Assn. hopes to stimulate love of country and flag, and defense of the honor and integrity of our national government and our Constitution, and to advocate military forces adequate to the defense of our country.

The Retired Officers Assn. was founded on Feb. 23, 1929, and is headquartered in Alexandria, Va. TROA includes retired officers from all services. The national association has over 370,000 members and over 400 chapters.

Edgar accepts award

Secretary of State Jim Edgar shows award given to him by Northern Illinois Learning Resources Cooperative. Edgar, who is also state librarian, accepted the award at the College of Lake County. CLC is a full member of NIRC, which promotes community college and universities libraries working together.

Youth Service Network honors 20 teenagers

The Youth Service Network recognized 20 outstanding teenagers from Lake County during its fifth annual Teen Recognition awards. The 20 finalists were chosen from a group of 90 teenagers nominated by their teachers, neighbors and friends.

Each finalist was presented with a certificate from Lt. Gov. George Ryan and a $100 U.S. savings bond. Local businesses and citizens donated money to finance the purchase of the awards.

The following is a list of the 20 finalists and the areas they represent:

Matijevich pushes for Fox River in gambling issue

State Rep. John S. Matijevich (D-North Chicago) said that if riverboat gambling is going to be permitted in Illinois, the Fox River should be considered. He said that he attended a House Democratic task force on riverboat gambling and made a "pitch" for the Fox River designation because of the potential of the Fox River-Chain O' Lakes waterway. "It is the No. 1 recreational waterway in the Midwest," Matijevich said.

The North Chicago Democrat said he is still ambivalent on the issue of riverboat gambling and thought it best not to "rush" toward passage. He said, though, that there are indications something could pass, so he decided that the Fox River should be included along with the Mississippi, Illinois, DesPlaines, Rock and Wabash Rivers.

Matijevich said that he indicated to the task force that if Illinois is going to legalize riverboat gambling, it must ensure that controls are tight, that licenses be limited to a certain number, and that the state be guaranteed a significant percent of the gross revenue. "The consensus was that a 20 percent tax be imposed, 15 percent to go to the state and 5 percent to the local government where the riverboat was docked," Matijevich said. He said that the riverboats would be prohibited from allowing gambling or the sale of alcoholic liquor while docked.

A riverboat gaming board would adopt rules and regulations, set standards and be responsible in controlling riverboat gambling in Illinois.

Matijevich said that Gov. James Thompson has indicated a change in his original position on riverboat gambling. He said Thompson now says that if it excludes Cook County, and if it pertains to all navigable waters in Illinois, he could support riverboat gambling. "There are some who are saying that expanding the original bill, which was meant for the Quad Cities area to compete with Iowa, which will allow riverboat gambling next year, may kill the bill," Matijevich said. He said he prefers to enact a single riverboat gambling bill for all of Illinois, not just one area in the state.

"If the inclusion of these other areas means that we deliberate more slowly on the riverboat gambling issue . . . well, there's nothing wrong with that, either," Matijevich said. The bottom line, according to Matijevich, is that when the state decides to enact riverboat gambling, it should consider the economic and tourist potential as well as the revenue to the state that can come from the Fox River waterway.

CLC board hears report of increased support

In an interim report to the College of Lake County Board of Trustees, the CLC Foundation reported that funds raised to date in the current fiscal year totaled nearly $120,000, which is triple the support raised the previous year.

According to Charles Schulze, vice president of development and executive director of the CLC Foundation Board of Directors, support raised by the end of the third quarter in fiscal year 1989 stands at $118,200. In fiscal year 1988, total CLC Foundation revenue was $38,352.

The year-to-date total includes $74,000 raised at a dinner/auction last fall to benefit Talent Leadership Award scholarships. Forty-four of these awards have already been presented to students. Another $6,800 was raised through sales of a commemorative cookbook prepared by CLC classified staff.

"We are pleased with the progress in revitalizing the Foundation and hope to add to our total support before the end of the fiscal year," said Schulze. He added that 10 new community members will join the Foundation board at the annual meeting.

The board of trustees also endorsed CLC Foundation goals for the coming year. They include improving financial reporting procedures; instituting an endowment policy; working with faculty to identify special academic projects or programs worthy of support; continued commitment to the Talent Leadership Awards; expanding the audience and role of the Community Gallery of Art; and providing support to the college's Professional Growth Center in the areas of an assessment project and development of teaching and learning methods.

The board honored student trustee Jack DeMeester with a resolution recognizing his service and contributions to the board during his one year, four-month term. DeMeester, a chief petty officer at Great Lakes, was appointed student trustee in February, 1987, to fulfill an unexpired term, and was then elected to the position by the student population.

Ferris State Univ. located in Big Rapids, Mich. lists the students on the academic honor roll for the spring quarter. Lakeland area students honored are: Robert Whitney of Antioch, Richard Lorenz of Buffalo Grove, Beth Ostrander of Grayslake, and Ronny Cixlick of Long Grove.

FLOOR PLAN

288-09 MOROCCO

By Landmark Designs
06-75-09

Simple, graceful and elegant, columns figured heavily in Greek and Roman architecture. The French Mediterranean styled Morocco, with columns inside and out, taps into that heritage. Fourth in Landmark's series of small homes, the Morocco is a treat for the eye as well as the pocketbook.

On the exterior, red clay roofing tiles, complemented by the patterned walkways and patio below, carry through the Mediterranean theme. Inside, columned archways mark passages between the informal family living areas—the dining room, living room, and kitchen/family room. Each column is mounted on a 24-inch pedestal.

Extra high ceilings in the living room and dining room amplify the visual impression of height created by the columns and make the rooms seem larger. Fire-watchers can enjoy the flames in the French fireplace from either the living room or the family room.

While a stool or two will fit by the built-in range, the counter is not long enough for an eating bar. However, there's plenty of room for a table in the family room. The formal dining area can be a more casual eating nook, freeing up space in the family room for other activities.

The large master suite has a built-in spa, double vanity and a dressing area in the walk-in closet. One of the other two bedrooms is small, fine for a younger child, or for use as a den, study, exercise or hobby room.

Extra storage is available in the utility room and the garage.

For a study plan of the MOROCCO (288-09), send $5.00 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering). Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME

Weekly Tip: Avoid extremes, and handle one thing at a time.

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Make a fresh start by revamping old habits and customs. Concentrate your efforts on comfort and efficiency. Don't run about carelessly.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Experiment with new subject matter when intellectual curiosity is running high. Develop aptitudes and search for outlets for your talents.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) You prefer to be free of boundaries, restrictions and limitations. Some of your best attributes surface now. Change is in the wind.

Cancer (June 22 to Jul. 21) You take on increased responsibility. A need for added security has you focusing on career, business, family funds and financial deals.

Leo (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) You can make new friends and meet influential people who can help your career. Your performance level is efficient and superb, so act quickly.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You may get bogged down by a quagmire of unfinished tasks and loose ends. It is wise to pause, think, reorganize, and then clear the decks.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You are at your diplomatic and gracious best. Share ideas and feelings with others. Continue conservative and financial/business practices.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Life takes on new meaning. Family members support your new plan. You want to do something daring, exciting, and possibly impractical.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) With money trends improving, you may be ready for a major purchase. Examine quality, price and condition before your final decision.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Recent success has you celebrating and sharing your exuberance with others. Don't gamble, thus maybe losing what has been recently gained.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You may be getting a lot of advice from an array of self-appointed teachers. It is better to follow your own conclusions and logical thoughts.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Focus on versatile, social activities, but avoid extravagance. Romantic feelings can ignite a current love relationship. Be prepared for sparks.

If You Were Born This Week

You are a free spirit, inquisitive, purposeful and friendly. If restrictions and rules fail, use a rational approach to develop your living patterns. Develop talents that lie in communications, management and decision. You'd be wise to think matters through before acting impulsively, which you have a tendency to do.

Dear Stanley:

Ah, sweet June, my favorite time of the year. Sweet grass to nibble, flower beds to dig up, and glorious mud to roll in. June, the month that brings a spring to the gait of even senior cats and dogs, is also the month when fleas and ticks are in full bloom. I've gotten a number of letters asking just what is safe to use in the war against fleas and ticks.

Dear Stanley:

Thanks for your column. It's nice to hear advice from the "dog's" mouth. My owners are worried because of all the bad stories about flea and tick products. Just what is safe and how much can they use to get rid of my fleas and ticks?

Sincerely,

Samantha Springer
Dublin, Minn.

Dear Samantha:

I know how concerned conscientious dog and cat owners must be these days. The rule of thumb in combating fleas and ticks is very simple.

Always check with your veterinarian as to the safety of any product. When buying over-the-counter flea and tick products, be sure that your people read the directions very carefully.

Remember that a product that may be okay for a dog can cause problems for cats, so make sure that the product is safe for dogs and cats.

Next, according to Dr. Mills, be sure that the products you use are compatible. Begin with a shampoo to kill fleas on the pet. Then follow with a dip or powder, and finally a flea collar. Always follow label directions and, of course, be sure to kill fleas where we are most likely to sleep and play. The Scratchex family of flea killing products works together for maximum flea protection.

As a final step, use a flea collar to keep those little pests away from your pet. The Scratchex 11 Month Flea Collar has been proven safe for even puppies and kittens over three months of age. Never use any flea-killing product on pets under three months of age, except under a veterinarian's instructions.

Love, Stanley

Pet of the Week

Cutey

Cutey is a fire newt, a type of salamander with an orange stomach. Cutey stays in a 10 gallon aquarium complete with water to swim in and rocks to climb on, even a cave. Cutey likes to hide among the crevices in the rocks, and the children think he's playing "Hide & Seek". He is very tame and seems to enjoy being handled. He is owned by Billy and Amy Jemc of Ingleside.

Less demonstrates skills to hoopsters

By STEVE PETERSON

Lakeland Newspapers

Don't be surprised, Antioch parents, if you see junior dribbling not one, but two basketballs this summer around the homestead.

He or she, when confronted, will simply state that the dribbling techniques was just one of a sheet-full of drills distributed at a basketball camp.

From Antioch to Vernon Hills, basketball is making a comeback as schools across the county are launching, completing or continuing camps.

"I try and teach the kids a work ethic and drills I use. It's nothing too fancy or too difficult," Jim Less said in between autographs.

Less was the guest speaker at Antioch High's camp this chilly Thursday, a day which made basketball season seem only a few dribbles away. He appeared at Coach Jeff Dresser's camp courtesy of Antioch resident Larry Denzel. Less was staying with the Denzel family when it was suggested he visit ACHS.

Less is not an NBA star, but has a work ethic story which should inspire all would-be Michael Jordans.

Less, presently a back-up guard with the Utah Jazz, suffered a knee injury while playing with the Philadelphia 76ers. "A lot of people said I would not be able to play," he said.

A lot of people were wrong.

Working through the 6-1 and under league and a short stint with the Continental Basketball Assn., Less regained his love for the game.

"Playing in the 6-1 and under league was a good chance to get back to the NBA," Less said.

Less was waiting with anticipation as just after the camp appearance, the league conducted an expansion draft for its two newest teams, Minnesota and Orlando. Less was unprotected, meaning the two teams could select him. They did not, meaning he will return to play for Coach Jerry Sloan next year.

"Jerry coached the same way he played - with intensity," Less said.

Less, in addition to showing off his NBA skills, stressed the importance of education.

All basketball coaches polled said fun and fundamentals are priorities at their camps.

At Mundelein, the gym has been full of would-be Mustangs the last two weeks. On June 23 Coach Dennis Kessel distributed awards to some of the 120 camp participants.

At Warren, Coach Darrel Bader is probably the veteran when it comes to hosting camps. He hosted a week-long camp for fifth through 11th graders and is in his 19th camp. "It's a chance for them to get to know the coaching staffs and each other."

At Wauconda, "we're trying to promote interest in the game of basketball in our village. Basketball has been taking a backseat in Wauconda and we are trying to rejuvenate it," Coach Dave Gardner said.

Gardner offers the camps through Wauconda Park Dist. and a second session will be held July 3-14. Third and fourth graders will meet from 8:30 - 9:30 a.m.; fifth and sixth graders 9:45 - 11 a.m. and seventh through ninth graders 11:15 a.m. - 12:15 p.m.

Carmel, Grayslake, Round Lake and Stevenson had camps for boys or girls. Grant will have its annual camp in August.

ACEP gives coaches new insight

By STEVE PETERSON

Lakeland Newspapers

Situation A: the scene is a basketball court and two seventh grade teams are battling in a close game. The coach, after a player misses a free throw, yanks him off the court, yells at him in front of the crowd and never lets him start another game.

Situation B: it's the same game, the same hoopster misses the free throw but the coach and player later discuss a flaw in the shooting technique.

Situation C: the same game again, this time the coach does not say or do anything, content to let the game go on.

All three situations, although imaginary, can be seen in Lake County sports sidelines. What do they show?

The reaction of a coach demonstrates coaching style - just one of the areas covered in the American Coaches Effectiveness Program (ACEP).

"Ninety percent to 95 percent say the course is terrific," Roger Zimmerman of Gurnee Park Dist., course moderator, said at the outset.

"Athletes first - winning second" is ACEP's philosophy and about 14 coaches and one reporter took the four-hour class Saturday at the College of Lake County. Several coaches from the Lake Zurich Flames and Antioch Vikings junior football programs took the course as well as high school coaches.

After watching a video tape, a study guide was presented. Everything from an athletic nutrition questionnaire to sports medicine is covered in the two Saturday, four hour course.

"Sport sciences teach you about the kids," the video states.

Ray Martens, who developed ACEP at the University of Illinois, tells participants that having a sound philosophy "provides you with direction".

According to ACEP, the top three objectives of all coaches should be: fun, development and winning. The audience in the CLC classroom followed the national norm when 80 percent said development is most important, 17 percent said fun and no one admitted to having winning as a top priority.

But as the video tape points out, it may be easy to sit back in an air-conditioned classroom and say development is No. 1. In the heat of the battle, though, the desire to win may take over.

Sports can help youth develop physically, psychologically and socially, according to ACEP.

"Your style shows a lot about you as a coach," the ACEP program states.

There are three coaching styles prevalent today. They are command or the drill sergeant approach, submissive or the babysitter or the cooperative coach, one who strives for a balance.

Knowledge, motivation and empathy are all important factors as well.

In sport psychology, sending and receiving, verbal and non-verbal and content and emotion are the ingredients which determine a successful coach. The program emphasizes more work on receiving, non-verbal communication and emotion.

I batted .500 in the sports psychology questionnaire.

Next it was onto sports medicine. ACEP gives do's and don'ts. For example, one of the ways to help an athlete who is laying on the field with an apparent neck injury is to simply clear the area and keep calm.

CLC notes: the college will hold a football drills camp as part of the ACEP program June 24. Curtis Gentry, CLC athletic director and former Chicago Bear, will conduct the drills at the gymnasium from 10 a.m. to noon. Tennis coach Lance Laverty is offering a tennis camp at the CLC courts from 1 - 4 p.m. The camp for seventh through ninth graders will be July 31- Aug. 11. For more information, call (312) 223-3600.

Dist. 10 report*Rapier's clutch homer gives Wauconda win

Throughout the 1989 baseball season, Wauconda's Gary Rapier contributed to the Bulldogs' third place showing in the Northwest Suburban Conference as a pitcher and third baseman.

But when teammate after teammate's names were announced on public address systems, Rapier could only watch. According to his father, Chuck, the senior sat while a designated hitter batted.

The younger Rapier made amends for all of that Friday. As the sun was quickly setting, the younger Rapier blasted a home run over the left-field fence at Wauconda High School to give the home legion team an 11-8 win.

"He's usually just a contact hitter," Coach Rapier said.

Two walks had preceded Rapier's clutch hit.

Rapier had proved that he could, indeed, hit the ball earlier in the game when he singled in the a three-run fourth inning.

The homer was Wauconda's second of the game. After spotting Lake Zurich a 3-0 lead in the visitors first at bat, Jamie Sensebaugh poked one to make it 3-1.

The dramatic win by Wauconda gave the team a 2-1-1 record in Dist. 10 play. Lake Zurich dropped to 2-1 in the league.

The comeback helped Wauconda forget that it let leads of 6-3 and 8-4 slip away just a couple of innings earlier.

"We have to do better than that," Rapier said.

He added, though, he feels the squad can compete with anybody in district play.

Lake Zurich Coach Ken Anderson feels the same way about his forces.

"When we're healthy, we'll be right there," he said.

Both squads will be traveling June 23 in league play. Wauconda is at Lake Forest while Lake Zurich faces Waukegan at Bowen Park.

Lake Zurich started the game well as Erick Bruksch doubled, Randy Mikusa walked and Randy Split was hit by a pitch. A double by Erick Scott then cleared the bases for a 3-0 lead.

Wauconda came right back and tied the game following Sensebaugh's homer. Singles by Gene Walters and Sensebaugh and a sacrifice fly tied the contest at 3-3.

The home team gained a three-run advantage in the fourth inning. A two-run triple by Walters keyed the inning. Walters then scored on an error.

Anderson's concerns about pitching were realized in the fifth inning. Five walks and a ground out led to two more Wauconda runs.

Then it was Lake Zurich's turn to rally.

Down 8-4, three straight Wauconda walks and a wild pitch led to a defensive miscue. Brian Morteano hit a grounder back to the Wauconda pitcher, who threw wildly to the first baseman, who also threw wildly, allowing Morteano to score for an 8-8 tie.

But then Rapier was given a chance to hit.

Indians hope hits return

Gurnee Indians manager Bill Stranowicz addressed the team's No. 1 problem directly.

"When you don't hit, you don't win," he said.

The Indians had just lost a doubleheader to rival Zion 3-0 and 4-3. The losses dropped the defending Shoreline League champs to 3-5.

"We're a younger team this year," Bill Stranowicz said of the squad.

The Indians lost two key players - Todd Parola, who graduated from Indiana University and Craig Prather to job commitments this summer.

There was some good news from the second game as the home team put some hits together in an attempt to rally from a 3-0 deficit at Faulkner Field.

The Indians will meet Glenbrook in a Sunday doubleheader starting at 1 p.m. June 25 at Gurnee. Following that doubleheader, the Indians stay at Faulkner field to host Lindy's Twins June 27 in a 6 p.m. game. The Indians easily handled the Twins in the season opener. Gurnee was trailing 4-0 when the rally began in the sixth inning of the second game.

Chris Stranowicz singled and advanced to third on a double by Mike Galdine. A ground out scored Chris Stranowicz and then Craig Wallace, a Round Lake resident, blasted a double scoring Galdine to cut the deficit to 4-3.

A walk to Craig Knaack ended Zion starter Bruce Wimer's day and reliever Don Heinrich then ended the inning with two strikeouts.

Gurnee had a chance to tie the game in the seventh inning. Mike Foote singled with one out. He then reached second when a Zion fielder bobbled a ground ball hit by Chris Stranowicz.

But a ground out then ended the game.

Gurnee had its chances in both games.

In the second game, it had runners on base in six of the seven innings. In the first game, the Indians had runners reach in five of seven innings.

Zion executed two double plays as pitcher Phil Angelos fired a three-hitter.

The Dill Brothers scored all the runs they would need in the second inning. Mike MacIsaac walked and was doubled home by Guy Winters. Winters then tallied on a Jim Broadway single.

Libertyville seeks second win over Mundelein

One thing you can say about Dist. 10 American Legion baseball league teams Mundelein, Vernon and Libertyville.

They will be seeing a lot of each other over the next few days. In both district and non-district games, the three teams will have a chance to discover just who can earn early-season bragging rights.

Mundelein and Libertyville start the weekend full of contests June 23 at Libertyville in a 6 p.m. game. The two teams battle again June 24 in a doubleheader at Libertyville before Mundelein and Vernon clash at Stevenson June 25 in a doubleheader.

"I haven't had a (regular) starting lineup since the Wauconda game. I think we will start to stride when we get the first team back," Mundelein Post 867 Coach Ted Muno said.

Mundelein started the season by winning five of six games and tying another. Mundelein lost three times last week, however.

Libertyville blanked Mundelein 9-0 to start the week despite two hits from Pat Halverson.

Then against Barrington, all seemed to be going according to plan for four innings as Mundelein led 3-0.

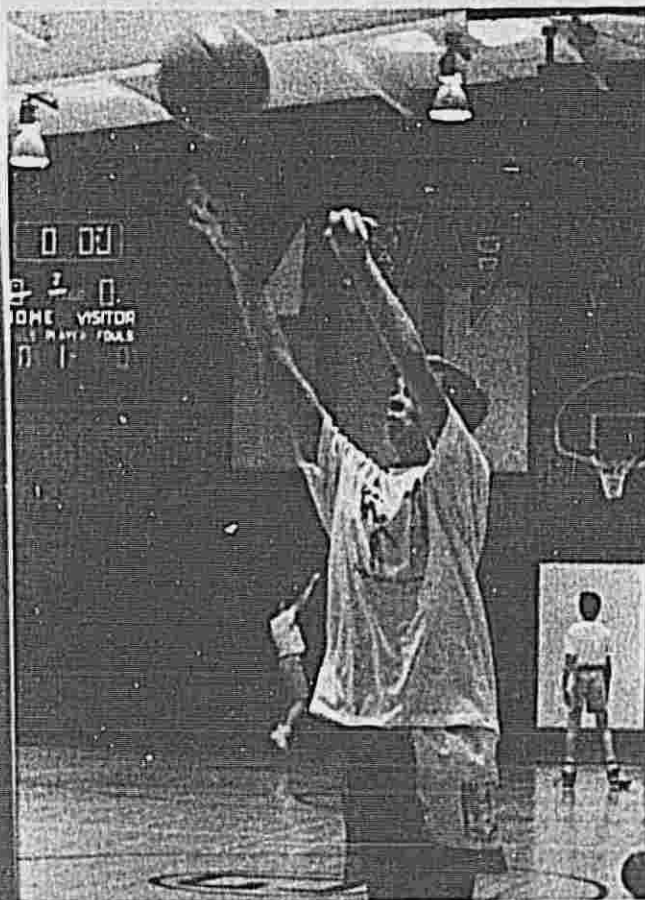

Jim Cooney of Grayslake and Jim Casper of Mundelein had RBI singles in the first inning. Chip Sidl singled and stole second before Cooney's hit.

In the second frame, Dave Woll singled and Craig Katzenmaier, a Grayslake resident, reached on an error. Fellow Ram Jim Neuman then ripped an RBI hit for a 3-0 margin.

Barrington then began to take advantage of a game total 13 Mundelein walks, three hits batsman and three errors as it scored eight fourth inning runs. The winners scored their 13 runs on just six hits.

Halverson pitched a complete game and struck out 10 Lake Forest batters.

The bad news when Lake Forest was not striking out, it was getting base hits.

Going for two

Bode wins tournament

Bob Bode of Zion captured first place honors at the Coke-Lakeland Newspapers tennis series at Lindenhurst. Bode defeated Nico Breckelmans of Vernon Hills for the top honors Sunday morning. Bode automatically qualifies for the tournament championship, to be held at Round Lake Aug. 11-13.

Hughes Chassagne earned

two points as did James McAndrew.

Lance Laverty, Ben Floyd, James Nelson and Anthony Coburn each earned one point.

Previous winners were: Fred Acosta, Gary Hattendorf and Steve Hattendorf.

Undefeated Mustangs dominate softball picks

As expected, Mundelein dominated the all North Suburban Conference selections as six Mustangs were chosen to the squad.

Junior infielder Ashley Struggles and senior pitcher Susan Musselwhite were unanimous picks for the Mustangs. Mundelein won 18 straight league games this year to wrap up another title for Coach Jim deRivera.

Also selected were junior infielder Michelle Strachn and pitcher Lynette Kowalke along with seniors Holly Smith and Katie Alyca.

Zion-Benton, which finished in second place with a 16-2 NSC mark, had five players chosen, led by unanimous pick senior Kim McDonald. Joining her on the team are juniors Jill Martin and Jennifer Linna and senior Jennifer Beyer.

Warren was 12-6 in NSC play and three seniors made the team. Pitcher-second baseman Jan Jahnke, pitcher Crystal Cobb and first-baseman Lydia Gonzalez were joined by junior catcher Heather Olejak.

Unanimous pick Shannon Stanek led the Libertyville selections. The Wildcats, who were also 12-6 in the NSC, also had Melinda McDonald and Stacey Eppel make the squad.

Antioch and Stevenson tied with 8-10 marks. Antioch had senior pitcher Kelly Maple make the team along with senior Dale Ramage and junior Debbie Wertz. Tammy Cole and Amy Piggott made the team from Stevenson.

North Chicago, which was winless for the NSC season, did not have any players chosen.

Not very often. Unless you frequently have nightmares.

Some people need help desperately, but they can't cry out. They're too afraid. Too bitter. Too confused. You know something? It's a wonderful satisfaction to help someone like that. It's an even greater satisfaction if that someone can be saved from going to jail. That's what probation counseling is all about. And the exciting thing is that you don't have to be a judge or psychologist to make it work. You can do it. Why not be a Citizen Assistant Program Volunteer. Someone very much like you is in trouble. # Grayslake High camps stress fun and basics

Fun and learning the basics of sport are the chief goals of several summer sports camps at Grayslake Community High School. Boys and girls basketball and weightlifting camps started the summer camps season at Grayslake High. Coach Greg Groth started his 15th summer camp with some drills in the basics June 19. "The most important thing is to get them to learn the basic skills and get them to love the game," Groth said. "Discipline, defense and dedication" is the slogan on the t-shirts given to 18 junior high players and 30 high school campers. "We want to instill that defense is very important," Groth said. Groth, who coached the Rams to a Northwest Suburban Conference title last year, said he emphasizes man-to-man defense. The sixth, seventh and eighth graders meet for 90 minutes mornings in the 11-day camp. Grades nine through 12 players meet Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday nights.

Coach Brad Larson's girls basketball camp is being held for seventh through 11th graders. Offensive techniques stressed included: ball-handling skills, shooting and selection and formation.

seven through 12 will be held July 14 and 15. July 14 the campers will meet from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The second day features two sessions, 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and 5:30 - 9:30 p.m.

Defensive techniques included man-to-man, traps and double teams and anticipating the pass.

Gymnastics and football camps both begin July 17. The gymnastics camp is open to eighth through 12th graders and will meet Monday through Thursday July 17 - 27 from 4 to 6 p.m.

A volleyball camp will begin June 26 for 10th through 12th graders. The campers will meet from 6 to 8:30 p.m. June 26 - July 27, four days a week. A soccer clinic for grades

Coach Bill Johnson's first football camp will meet Mondays through Thursdays July 17-20 and 24-27 from 6 to 9 p.m.

Also starting Monday was the GCHS weightlifting camp. Open to incoming freshmen through seniors, the weightlifting program is designed to increase body strength no matter what sport athletes are involved in.

Student exchange program seeks host families

by STEVE PETERSON
LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS

Looking for a way to bring some international culture to your home?

Sally Blasi has an answer. Why not host an American Field Service (SFS) student for the 1988-89 school year?

"You can take a trip abroad without even having to leave," Blasi said.

Blasi should know the benefits of AFS well. She has been coordinating the Grayslake efforts since the mid-1970s.

"The kids learn that we are all just people," Blasi, who talks about the AFS program with enthusiasm, said.

Grayslake started its AFS efforts in 1962 when it hosted its first AFS student. AFS students, carefully screened by their home countries, are between the age of 16 and

18. They are seniors when they visit the foreign lands and graduate with that year's graduating class.

Currently, Jenna Padbury of Lake Villa is studying on the island of St. Lucia in the Caribbean while Brandy Ann Werner of Grayslake is looking forward to spending the summer in Portugal.

All kinds of families are hosting AFS students throughout America. The concept began in 1947 when a group of American Field Service ambulance drivers from World War I and II, tired of the carnage and devastation, decided that the best way to avoid bloodshed in the future would be for people of different cultures and beliefs to spend time living and learning together. Since then, according to an AFS press release, more than 350,000 people have joined the AFS family.

AFS places students with families on the basis of compatible interests and lifestyles. Unlike many countries, AFS is not-for-profit.

Many students return to the area after their stay as an AFS student, Blasi said. These have included: Jenny Shepherd from New Zealand, Jenny Bouchier from Australia, George Nevin from Scotland, Georg Strandes from Norway, Roberto Howell from Honduras, Cathy Lotte from France, Chalo Gonzalez from Ecuador and more.

Grayslake has been the stop-over for bus tours of AFS students making their way back home. In 1987, when a group of AFS students were returning from Minneapolis, many of them were wearing American League champion Minnesota Twin jerseys in the year the 'Twinkies' won the World Series.

For more information on hosting an AFS student, call Blasi at (312) 223-4237.

Q. Why are contact lenses more expensive than glasses?

A. The cost of contact lenses is deceiving because we usually think of it in one lump sum.

Actually, the cost of lens materials is no greater for contacts than for glasses.

The additional cost of contacts goes for the many extra services you need. The optometrist, for example, spends more time and uses more skill to properly prescribe, analyze, design, verify and modify the fit of contact lenses.

There is also the cost of the individualized instructions you need to learn how to put on, take off and care for your contacts.

In addition, the initial cost of contact lenses should cover follow-up office visits during the adaptation period. These are essential for your safe and successful wearing of contacts.

Good seeing you

It was nice seeing Gene Pauly, a former long time resident of the Grass Lake area. Gene used to drive the GLS bus and later the ACHS bus for many years. She recently moved to Salem, Wis. and tells me she is presently enjoying her summertime freedom. Gene is the mother of seven and the proud grandmother of several grandbabies. When we ran into each other last Friday, she was lugging around one of her beautiful grandsons on her hip and looked like she was enjoying every minute of it. It was nice seeing you again, Gene, take care

Board debates, then OK's bill from lobbyist firm

What is and what is not an emergency sparked a lengthy debate at a Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. meeting.

At issue was whether or not to approve an ordinance authorizing the district to spend $25,000 for a contract with the legislative consulting firm of Kuser and Raucci of Chicago.

The debate over the matter featured heated discussion at the board's meeting at the Lake County Building in Waukegan Friday.

The hiring of the legislative consultant was, in President C. Richard Anderson's view, to prevent passage of legislation which would have required a two-thirds vote before proceeding with condemnation proceedings. Such proceedings are used in represented well in the legislative leadership in Springfield.

"I think it's against the state law. The president has no right to declare an emergency. It's a misuse of his powers."—Dist. 3 member Robert Neal some cases to acquire forest preserve land.

"I think it's against the state law. The president has no right to declare an emergency. It's a misuse of his powers," Robert Neal, a member from Dist. 3, said. Anderson's forces prevailed, however, 16-7.

Bruce Hanson of Lake Zurich started the debate by stating that Lake County is "A two-thirds vote would put the forest preserve at a tremendous disadvantage," Norman Geary of Dist. 4 said.

Donald Morrison, attorney for the board, said the legislation proposed is "improper".

"It's just a form of arbitration - nothing more than that," Morrison said of condemnation.

James LaBelle of Dist. 3 and other members of the board praised the Chicago consulting firm.

"We were facing a real possibility that the forest preserve would, one day, not be able to protect forests," Board Member Bobbie O'Reilly said.

O'Reilly said the finance committee did not act on the hiring of a lobbyist upon the urging of Mike Graham.

O'Reilly said in view of actions possible in Springfield, she knows why such organizations as the Lake County Municipal League and others are represented in the state capitol.

"We were prudent in defending our right to exist," she said.

"I don't see the two-thirds requirement as throwing out condemnation as a tool," LaBelle said.

"I thought it was an expenditure that was not needed," member Donald Strenger of Lake Forest said.

Before the final vote on the ordinance, the board rejected a challenge by a 13-9 vote and then rejected an amendment offered by LaBelle.

Carmel starts May scholarship

Friends of the late Waukegan attorney Charles M. May have established a scholarship in his memory at Carmel High School. According to the wishes of his family the scholarships will be used to pay the tuition for students who are unable to pay because of family illness or other substantial reason. The scholarships will be awarded by the president of Carmel at his discretion.

Members of the scholarship committee were Paul Collins, Angelo Dicello, Eugene Hamlet, Marshall Freidman, Gerald Jutila, Eugene Snarski, Kenneth Smitala, Albert Salvi, Peter Shovlain and Robert Will, Jr.

Nine of the children of Charles May and wife Margaret are graduates of Carmel: Elizabeth '77, Joseph '78, Cathy '79, Tony '80, Ellen '81, Mike '83, John '85, Charles '87 and Steve '88. Five other children attended other schools.

Mandated plan means changes

Illinois' new mandatory insurance law will mean some changes for drivers on the state's roads, according to Tim Osmond of Osmond Insurance in Antioch.

"Mandatory auto insurance puts special requirements on every driver," said Osmond. "Beginning January 1, 1990, you will be required to show proof of insurance coverage to police officers upon request, and that means carrying your insurance card with you." In addition, drivers must sign a statement affirming they have insurance when they register their vehicles.

Osmond says it pays to purchase insurance. "The Secretary of State will make random selections of vehicle owners to determine if they have insurance. If you can't prove you're insured, you could be subject to a $500 fine and two months license plate suspension."

Drivers concerned about the cost of insurance should speak to their agent. "Companies vary widely in the amounts they charge for the same coverage, so it can pay to consult an independent insurance agent," said Osmond.

It may be difficult for some to find insurance, but for them the State of Illinois provides coverage through its Automobile Insurance Plan.
